Introduction

Humankind is not alone in the universe!

There are other life forms on other planets who have our well-being at heart and see no reason not to share with us their wisdom and knowledge.

In the last couple of years, we have heard a lot about the ability of some individuals to act as channelers for messages from spirit beings as well as an assortment of masters and extraterrestrials. And yet as popular and well-meaning as these channels may be there is little that we can do to judge the legitimacy of that which they have received. We know for a fact that it's possible for the human mind to conjure up all sorts of fanciful daydreams—the subconscious is, indeed, a powerful tool. This is not to say that beings such as Ashtar don't exist, and that there aren't huge mother ships circling the Earth thousands of miles outside of our lower layers of atmosphere. It's just that it's nearly impossible to check on the legitimacy of such claims and to know precisely which parts of the messages are real and which parts may be imagined in whole or at least in part.

The case of "Tony" (we must hide his true identity for security reasons) is—on the other hand—quite different.

For the messages that Tony receives are not channeled through him, but actually arrive in his mailbox on a regular basis.

It all started during the summer of 1993, after a particularly hot spell in his native Canada. In order to cool off one evening, Tony found himself sleeping out among the stars instead of in his rural home that has no air conditioning.

"It must have been around 2:00 or 3:00 AM when I first noticed this high-pitched hum in the air," Tony explains. "At first I thought maybe a high tension line near the house had snapped, but when I looked in the direction of a nearby utility pole, I saw something that made my hair stand on end."

"About 50 or 100 yards away was this remarkably bright light hovering in the sky. It was so intense that I could hardly look at it for more than a period of a second or two at a time."

Suddenly, according to Tony, the light dimmed and the object headed out over a nearby clearing directly behind his residence.

"As far as I could tell, the craft never actually landed, but it did seem to light up and then dim down several times over a period of the ten minutes or so that it remained in view."

Without any sound, the UFO took off straight up into the sky and Tony never saw—or heard—it again.

However, two days later his life was to change abruptly when he began to receive a series of mysterious messages in his mail box that were delivered without a return address.

"The first letter stated that the individual writing to me knew all about my low-level UFO sighting and indicated that he was actually onboard the craft at the time of the encounter.

"He said that by picking up on my vibrations, they were able to tell that I was no threat to their continuing operations in my area and that, basically, I was a kind person at heart—one that really cared about other people and wished to see those around me prosperous and live a life of harmony with what they called the 'laws of creation.'"

Over a period of time, Tony has received numerous letters, all of which seem to indicate an alien presence on Earth. "It's as if they are living amongst us—know our troubles and are able to offer advice on the subjects that matter to us the most."

And while the messages received by Tony received from "Mr. X" may be delivered by his friendly rural mail carrier in an ordinary manner, this is not the first time that such unusual—and apparently otherworldly—communications have come through the postal system. In the foreword to this small—but important—work, columnist Antonio Huneus describes the incredible circumstances surrounding the much-debated "UMMO Papers" that arrived in the hands of Spanish Ufologists. The circumstances surrounding these two cases—which take place half a world apart—is most uncanny.

Naturally, there is no way to be 100% certain about the origins of these papers. Perhaps there is a logical explanation for the material Tony has been receiving, but he insists he told no one about his UFO sightings and that, in fact, his closest neighbor is approximately half a mile away and his home is neither visible from the road or from anyone living nearby.

"Not only have I kept the details of my sighting to myself, but the nature of the messages just ring with a great deal of honesty. I don't see any reason for anybody to go to the trouble of making this stuff up. For what purpose? What could be their motive?" Tony says he has mulled this matter over and over in his mind but cannot come up with any plausible—logical—explanation, but that these are genuine letters from an extraterrestrial.

The Mystery of the UMMO Papers

by Antonio Huneus

As most seasoned investigators know, for one reason or another, a good number of UFO cases often remain unsolved. In other words, they can neither be proven real or to be fake with total and complete certainty. Nowhere is this more apparent than in the ongoing mystery of the so-called UMMO affair. For over two decades, a vast number of technical and sometimes philosophical communications have been mailed in manila envelopes to no less than 20 and probably many more Spanish and French UFOlogists. There are allegedly also networks of correspondents in Canada, Austria, Yugoslavia and other countries, although there is no concrete proof of this.

The exact origin of the UMMO papers has never been solved. This means that it was never proven with the slightest degree of certainty that they were either fabricated by some "earthly" intelligence agency or by an extremely persistent and well-informed hoaxer; or for that matter, what they purported to be: communiques from intelligent beings from the planet UMMO, who, according to their own admission, have been visiting Earth incognito since 1950.

According to the papers, UMMO is the name of a plane orbiting IUMMA, known in our astronomical catalogs as the star Wolf 424, and located 14.6 light years from the Sun. It belongs to a rare group of small hot stars discovered in 1867 by French astronomers Etienne Wolf and Pons Rayet; they are described as surrounded by luminous clouds of ejected material containing atoms of helium, carbon, and nitrogen.

The main source for the UMMO affair is the prolific Spanish writer and UFOlogist Antonio Ribera, who wrote with Rafael Fariols the classic book, Un Caso Perfecto (A Perfect Case), which chronicled two UFO landings in the mid-60s near Madrid. These spearheaded the UMMO affair by showing for the first time its characteristic emblem (similar to our astronomic symbol for the planet Uranus), which first appeared on a controversial series of photographs known as the San Jose de Valderas case, and in eyewitness descriptions of the Aluche landing. Later on, Ribera wrote, "de veras los OVNIs nos vigilian?" (Are we really being surveyed by UFOs?) and in 1979, El Mensaje de UMMO (The UMMO Message), in which he reprinted a number of the most interesting technical and philosophical papers, as well as an appendix with an UMMO-Spanish-French Dictionary, containing 403 words of this alleged alien language.

Starting in 1965, the Spanish UFO buff Fernando Sesma began to receive by mail a number of technical papers relating to and supposedly written by the OEMII, the inhabitants of UMMO. The network of correspondents soon expanded to about 20 people residing in Madrid, Barcelona, Valencia, and other Spanish cities. The envelopes, however, contained no valid forwarding address, and so it was only a one-way communication system. Because Sesma had a reputation of being a wild contactee, his 1967, UMMO, otro planeta habitado (UMMO, Another inhabited planet), was largely ignored by the Spanish UFO community. Nevertheless, the affair would soon prove to be too strange to be totally disregarded.

According to the papers issued by the OEMII, their first landing on Earth occurred on March 28, 1950, when "an OAWOLEA UEWA OEM (lenticular spacecraft) established contact with the Earth's lithosphere for the first time in our history. The descent took place near the village of 'La Javie' in the Basses-Alps, in France." The crew was composed of four OEMII (men) and two YIEE (women). Another message explained that two years prior to this first landing, their civilization had detected the existence of intelligence in our OYAA (planet), when they intercepted a weak signal with a frequency of 431.44 megahertz. They later discovered that it had been emitted in 1934 by a Norwegian ship conducting ionospheric research in Terranova.

The plot thickened, however, when the UMMO aliens admitted that they had set up an underground base somewhere around the mountain Pc de Cheval Blanc in France, and that they had also sacked a nearby farm house, paralyzing their inhabitants and taking papers, bank notes, equipment (including an electric meter), and biological samples from the farmer's family.

Due to the highly interesting technical content of some of the papers, which dealt with such things as cosmology and advanced physics, a number of respected French scientists became involved in the UMMO affair. Dr. Claude Poher, who was instrumental in setting up GEPAN, the French Space Agency specialized UFO bureau, was one of them. He told Ribera that the French police had looked into the matter of the sacked farmer's house in La Javie, about 20 years after the event. To their dismay, they found that in April of 1950 (one month after the alleged UMMO landing), the local farmer had reported the robbery to the police, including the detail that his electric meter had been taken.

The UMMO affair, however, reached prominence with two landings in the outskirts of Madrid in 1966 and 1967. On February 6, 1966, at about 6:00 PM, half a dozen witnesses spread in the Madrid outskirts of Aluche, observed the flight path and landing of a perfectly round saucer with three legs and a diameter of approximately 33 feet. According to Jose Luis Jordan, who saw it closer, the saucer's underside also exhibited the Uranus-like emblem of UMMO, which was not known by any of the witnesses at the time. The UFO landed in one of the local properties, leaving three distinct small landing marks and burnt grass around it. The marks were rectangular in shape (5.9 by 11.8 inches), two inches deep, and with a carved cross of X at the bottom; the distance between each mark was 19 feet, with the three holes forming a triangle.

The second incident included the seven controversial photos of San Jose de Valderas, which showed clearly the UMMO symbol. The incident was actually predicted several days before it happened in a written message mailed to Francisco Sesma and two other correspondents, where even the precise geographical coordinates of the landing were given. Several witnesses saw the mysterious saucer of San Jose de Valderas on the evening of June 1, 1967. Both the landing marks and the size, shape and symbol of the object were identical to the one seen in Aluche during the previous year. Seven clear photos of a classic flying saucer with a large UMMO symbol were taken by Antonio Pardo and another amateur photographer; although Dr. Hynek's Center for UFO Studies (CUFOS) and Ground Saucer Watch (GSW) in Phoenix, Arizona, later labeled the photos a hoax, Ribera still stands by them.

One of the most puzzling details of the San Jose de Valderas case, however, was the appearance of little metallic tubes of nickel found around the UFO landing marks in the property of "La Ponderosa" in the Madrid neighborhood of Santa Monica. A mysterious Frenchman named Dagoussét appeared on the scene offering a reward for the recovery of the pieces. Ribera and other Spanish UFOlogists eventually obtained a sample, and submitted it to Spain's National Institute of Aerospace Technology (INTA) for analysis. Lab results revealed that the cylindrical rocket tubes contained inside plastic sheets of polyvinyl fluoride. These were eventually identified with a plastic product called "TEDLAR," which was manufactured by Du Pont de Nemours. The trick, however, is that this product was then restricted to military use and was not available in the open market in Spain.

In the following years, the network expanded and the papers multiplied; some of them were highly technical tracts on the nature of the universe and their planet, the biological basis for intelligent life in the cosmos (basically variation in the humanoid form), the propulsion of their spacecraft, the OAWOOLEA UEWA OEMM, etc. All communications had the characteristic seal—similar to Uranus—of UMMOAELEWE, their central government of Politburo. The envelopes were mailed from different cities in Europe, but no forwarding address was ever discovered; most were written in Spanish and a few in French.

Even a brief summary of their content would require dozens of pages. Notice, for example, the style of the following essay on the AIOOYAAIODI (dimensional entity):

"Advances obtained in the field of Cosmology have thrown enough light for our ideologues to abandon the moving grounds of intuition in their speculations, so that we can support ourselves in a depurated empiricism which is all-encompassing and has allowed us to formulate much more consequent hypotheses than the previous ones."

Sounds heavy? Listen to another paragraph: "Our model of the Cosmos is capable of explaining satisfactorily all the questions posed not only by Physics, but also by the biological and psico-physical fields. It is compatible with the rich phenomenology of which we are optional skeptics."

Skeptics and believers alike should be aware that the content of the UMMO material is different from that of most contactee cases, because they don't contain messianic messages of doom and salvation. The method used is always by mail and not direct or telepathic contact. Unlike Adamski, Siragusa, Meier, Rama, Ashtar Sheram, and countless other cosmic souls trying to convert our confused human species, the OEMII write things like, "in no way do we wish—and we sternly warn you about this—to see you fall into the temptation of switching your religious, scientific and politico-economical ideas for ours...it would be a mistake for you to adopt our ideas, concepts and statements at face value..."

What are we to make out of all this? Are we dealing with a clever and long-range social experiment conducted by some earthly intelligence agency or a think-tank like the Rand Corporation, as was considered by Ribera? Or are we instead being manipulated by a cryptic cabal of industrialists and scientists like James Bond's "SPECTRE," or the UFO-conditioning plot described in Martin Caidin's novel, The Mendelejev Conspiracy? Or should we instead take the papers as true renderings of an advanced alien civilization from UMMO, which is trying to impart some real knowledge without upsetting too much the world's political and cultural "status quo"?

Whatever the answer, there could be little doubt that UMMO is a complex affair. A simple hoax is ruled out in view of the duration and complexity of the material involved. A secret conspiracy or experiment is perhaps more tenable, yet again we must consider the length of time, international resources, and the sophistication of the material itself. One would have to ask what are the motives of such a group (providing that it exists) to go to so much trouble? One must keep in mind that some of the papers on advanced physics, cosmology, biology, and space propulsion, actually baffled a number of respected Spanish and French scientists and engineers. As put by Dr. Jacques Vallee, a well known computer expert and UFO writer, "If these concepts were not of extraterrestrial origin, it was pointed out, then they must have originated with people who knew perfectly the 'ultimate advances of modern physics,' and had extrapolated beyond them."

To my satisfaction, the mystery has never been solved as either a long-range disinformation experiment or actual ET messages. The affair may also still be going on, as shown by a one-page letter written in English, postmarked by October 1, 1985 from New York City, received by this writer several years ago. The letter had the characteristic UMMO symbol and was obviously a photocopy. Unlike the original technical papers, however, this could have been a put on, since it was now stressing political views of an almost subversive nature.

"The Recognition of the UFO Phenomenon refutes the authority of the State as the ultimate power on this planet," started the message, adding later that, "the ignorant masses are being sent to fight senseless and needless wars to sacrifice their own lives in the name of Nationalism." This, in turn, was defined as "an outmoded concept based upon arbitrary and imaginary lines which represent artificial boundaries that do not exist in Nature Nationalism is the modern-day extension of primate mammalian territorialism..."

And so the case goes on.

The First Communication

Tony, lets speculate for a moment. What if in this part of the galaxy a very advanced form of life evolved and finally achieved temporal technology? Lets say that this race no longer existed in any one time stream but traveled up and down. They would go back to a planet's past, seed it with life and then zip a couple of billion years ahead to see how it turned out. If they didn't like the results, they would simply go back and change it.

Lets say this race seeded this part of the milky way with the same basic genetic blueprint. Of course, you would get variations between the same species from different worlds. Environmental factors might make dolphins on this planet come out of the ocean and go right back in. But on another planet they might have continued to evolve as land mammals. They could have achieve a very high tech level by now.

On other worlds the human species may have evolved. (note: most in this region are homosapien, only 1 cetacean based so far.) Now what happens if these races begin to travel and meet others that were started by this seeder race? Well, if they get along they form mutually beneficial partnerships. What if this collection of races came to the earth? They already have. They have been here for quite some time now. Their actions have not been always benign. If you or any others have questions about them, ask me. I can probably answer most of them. Of course I could be just another UFO nut and everything I say BS.

On the other hand maybe this is a test to see how well people can handle all this stuff. If I can't answer a specific question, I can ask someone who I guarantee can. You and your friends on this [CENSORED] have a rather unique opportunity. Choose your question wisely and be specific. Please don't ask how to build a better mouse trap or a better bomb. Other than that ask what ever you'd like. Please share this with your friends. Send your reply to [CENSORED] it is checked every day.

Here's a freeby Tony. Ask somebody in the defense dept. what a "Fast Walker" is. The person will need TK clearance and access to TOP SECRET >RUFF< material.

One last thing Tony. There is a certain safety in ignorance so be sure you really want to know the answer first. Knowledge unlike other gifts can never be returned.

From "Mr. X"

The Future of the Human Race

Okay, Mr. X,

Let's say, for now, you're not a UFO nut, awaiting the "Space Brothers." I'll be polite and ask you two questions that have been on my mind for years.

A) What is the future of the human race? Are we destined to die on this planet... Please BE SPECIFIC and please, no vague prophecies.

B) Why do UFOs play hide and seek with us? Our consciousness is raised enough already! The time for play is over.

I'm very interested in the ET community out there. If you would like to talk about them, please drop me a line any time.

I hope my questions aren't too broad. If you are what you say you are, then I thank you very much. I've longed to meet people from other planets.

Tony, The future of the human race is unfolding on many worlds throughout this galaxy. The true human race that is. You see Tony, Earth is like the black sheep of the family. The immediate concern is for mankind to become civilized. To be honest, quite a few up there believe the particular breed of human on this planet has been too badly damaged by genetic interference to ever achieve true civilization. In order for you to understand I need to digress a bit.

Earth was visited by a combined mining and exploration force in the year 52,000 B.C. These were humans from three colony zones, Sirius, Orion, Pleiades. They genetically altered the indigenous prehuman animal existing here at the time. Yes it was a misguided and evil thing to do, what can I say? They're only human. There was a great war fought on this planet between two factions in this group. The female side won and as a result it was decided to try and train the earth people in the art of civilization.

Various teachers were sent throughout history to introduce a progressive system of morale and social guidelines. The results of which are mixed. Like these beings they were immediately deified by the populace. (This part ties in with your second Q.) So to make a long story short. For the last 10,000 years man has been guided toward civilization. Some believe that man is reverting back to a pre arrival genetic state. That the advanced genetic material transferred to him is being bred out by the more abundant though less evolved genetic code. Their solution is to eradicate the present species of prehuman on the planet and transfer those humans who were taken with them back down. The reason being that their genetic evolution was maintained in a forward direction by continued influx of human genetic material. Sounds pretty grim doesn't it. Not to worry the present administration if you will, doesn't believe two wrongs make a right. But that still doesn't solve the problem, right? What they are seeing is a rapid deterioration of mankind. A small percent appears to be trying to advance while the majority is rapidly digressing. If left unchecked the world would soon be inhabited by two species. Potential human beings and animals that walk on two legs and have the power of speech. Tony if this sounds callous remember they see mankind as a whole. They look down and see 500,000,000 people slowly starving to death when there is enough to feed everyone twice over. They see 50,000,000 children slaughtered every year in the wombs of their own mothers. They do not consider this civilized behavior, do you? So what to do? If they do nothing mankind will suffer by his own hand. If they interfere again the karmic debt would be heavy indeed. It is at this particular juncture that we find ourselves.

But a solution was found Tony. However I don't know if your going to understand or like it. It is irrelevant anyway, it's nearly finished now. There is another species of being in this part of the galaxy. They are not human based but rather cetacean. They are what humans call the Greys. They love the Earth because it contains the most advanced species of cetaceans other than themselves. They want to live on this world and observe and guide their brothers into civilization. In exchange they have agreed to help mankind achieve true civilization. Currently a cross-breeding program is being conducted between the Greys and Earth humans. The intent is to create an interface being which will help in bringing the two races together. The Earth will be their joint home. Tony this particular agreement has several significant advantages for humanity. The Greys are even more technologically advanced than the Elohim humans. The hybrids consider themselves human and Grey and will have the capability to defend both races from anyone. The down side to all this is that the earth is too populated and the genetic pool must be re stabilized before merging can take place.

The current strategy is to reduce the population by a minimum of 2\3. This is to be accomplished by the introduction of certain genetically engineered behavior and mutation specific viruses. As a safeguard the viruses will be easily prevented by correct and responsible behavior. In other words it will be easy for a human being to prevent contraction. When this process is complete they will arrive. What do you have to do to insure your survival. Act like a human being its as simple as that. Stop killing each other over the most trivial of matters.

If you survive than the future that you asked about is more wondrous than you can imagine. (your next question should be what about all those people who didn't survive. Believe it or not they will in time share this new world with you but in a much better and productive manner.) What does the future hold for man? A fundamental change in his perception of himself and his place in the universe. Will you die on this world? No. You will not die on any world. Death is a disease and is not found in the more advanced human races. You will be given genetically enhanced bodies that will resist disease and deterioration. These bodies have a predefined function period and will maintain peak performance up to that time. Before the end of that time your memories and base life force will be transferred to another fresh body. This process can be repeated indefinitely.

If you should suffer an accident your essence will immediately be contained in an enclosure field. The location of all regenerative life forms is constantly tracked by the...I'm not sure how to say this, There is a form of life that evolved out of what once were self aware computers. They exist now as high density thought patterns in an energy network so to speak. They are not physical life unless they're interfacing with a computer. They work with the collective and maintain certain energy networks.

The point is this, you don't have to die. Do you realize what this means in terms of personal development? You will be given advanced means of education and have the time to fully utilize them. You will travel to the stars and see in person what you only dream of now. The heavens will be a new place of wonder for you all. And all you have to do to achieve all this is not be animals. Just be what you truly are, members of the human races. Tony what I've told you is nothing new. You could have all had this long ago if you had simply listened to those sent. Remember what Jesus said, "There will be a new heaven and a new earth and you will all be given new bodies that never die." Tony he wasn't lying. Why don't they show themselves? To do so before the completion of the hybrid projects would only create confusion in the masses. There would be catastrophic damage to the worlds religious and social order. Finally human life at this stage of the game is simply to violent and primitive to have anything to offer. It's not even a nice place to visit. Look what happens to tourists in Florida! Hope we haven't been to vague and Tony I was born on the Earth just like you. Before that? Listen to Phil Collin's song take me home and Peter Gabriel's Solsbury hill. I think you'll find them most revealing. Mr. X, you certainly have interesting points. <smile>

If what you say is true, (and I'm not sure why, but I'm inclined to believe you) then the future is not what I hoped it'll be.

You're right. I don't like it. I'm a little angry at the fact that fellow sentient beings are going to "eradicate" and "reduce" the population, even if it's for our greater good. I happen to believe that my true self, my soul, is immortal and that it was created by God/Goddess/All That Is as some people in the New Age like to call the Creator of the Universe. Even if your friends eradicate me, I believe I'll reincarnate somewhere else.

Nevertheless, I'm not sure if I like the idea of us black sheep changing into "hybrids." Yes, we're violent, but, Christ, who said anything about merging genetically with ETs? Who agreed to this. What agreement are you talking about? Did the White House sign documents with these Greys or the Elahim people?

I'm 26 years old. Will all these miracles as you call them, happen in my life time? Or are you talking about centuries or eons from now? I like to think of myself as a decent person and I like to stay human. If I want to see the universe, must I become a "hybrid"?

You've piqued my curiosity Mr. X. How do you happen to know all about the Greys and others? Are you so enlightened that the aliens picked you to inform the rest of us?

But I'm asking too many questions.

Thank you.

"Mr. X."

The Hybrids

Tony, the choice of the word "eradicate" was intentional. It was intended to generate some type of response, an honest one. Some people would have viewed my statements as a fulfillment of their most dark and hidden desires. They could easily except the annihilation of any amount of people if they believed the cause to be a just one. Others would feel outrage at the very thought of it. One is a HUMAN response the other isn't. Had you chosen the other we would not continue this discussion.

Compassion is a higher order emotion not found in the animal kingdom. Congratulations. Allow me to clarify my previous statements. The process that I spoke of has been going on now for nearly 10,000 years. When man was first interfered with it changed the natural selection process. These processes would have occurred over the course of many millions of years. The final result would have been a homogenous mixture of the best qualities of all mankind Over the years these beings have attempted to undue the damage they have done. In previous years their methods were much more drastic. You have only to read the historical records to see the role plagues have served in changing the course of human history. Now there are diseases that are much more selective in their targeting.

In fact an average person has no problem protecting him or herself from infection. This is because their human intelligence overrides their basic animal instincts. An animal might choose a course of action that may lead to his death. These beings do not kill anyone. If a person dies of these plagues it is of their own choice. AIDS is a prime example. It is with out question the easiest disease to protect yourself from there is. It does not even require much thought. Do this get AIDS, don't do this don't get AIDS. (note: this is only an example) This is an individual decision a person makes on their own. If there animal instincts override there human sense of self preservation, the results are theirs and theirs alone to bear. But enough of this subject, I never agreed with it anyway. I simply don't have a better way to offer.

As for you second Q. the human race is not going to be forced to become hybrids. They will be a separate and distinct species sharing this world with humans and the Greys. They are simply a means of bridging the gap between the two species. As I said before once they are here they will permit no further outside interference in Earth affairs. Remember this Tony, the qualities of being human are not a God given right. It must be worked for, it must be fought for and above all else it must be realized in the hearts man. Once obtained it can never be taken from you and their are those who would willingly give their lives for your right to be one. Next Q. there is no agreement of any kind between the collective and any Earth government. Period. When the time comes there will not be a need for an agreement.

Next Q. Christmas day 2011 begins the final phase from there on the events will carry themselves on their own momentum. Next Q. I already explained that no one will be forced to become a hybrid. The object here is to preserve Earth humans not replace them. Can you see the universe as you are? No. All of the races that have achieved this technology are also using telepathic translation technology. Earth humans at this stage of mind training could not interact in a productive manner with the others. Beings at this level would find it emotionally painful to be in the proximity of a transceiving Earth person. But take heart the techniques are easily learned. In fact there are many Earth born people up there who are on an equal footing with the best of them.

Next Q. How do I know about the Greys and the collective? Was I chosen to bring this Knowledge to the people? Tony I can say this, I may say things you don't like but I promise I will never lie to you. If what I say has value than it will stand of it's own. I am here now and that is what's important. Where I came from and were I'm going, the future will answer. I know quite a lot about all of this Tony. It's my purpose to know. There are things happening here that people simply have no comprehension of. Was I chosen, no, I volunteered. The stakes are high but so are the rewards. Let's just say I intend to stack the odds in your favor a little bit more. Someday man will look back and see why all this was necessary. Until then things may seem gloomy and confusing but do not despair.

The future is bright for all mankind. It's the getting there that's tough. Well your right, that was a lot of questions but they were important ones. You have done well by asking them. Want to know what its like up there? I thought you would. Travel between stars is done by dimensional compression and pattern transferral. You literally piss the universe off so much it refuses to allow you to exist there. It wants you anyplace but where you are. The longer and harder you piss it off the farther it removes you from the compression zone. Telepathy is used by everyone since it is auto translating.

One of the more interesting uses is in relationships. You can merge into the essence of another during certain high emotional moments. Once this is done a permanent link is established with that person. Life is the same as far as the collective has traveled. The same genetic blueprint has been found on all the inhabited worlds. It is without question a non natural condition. Evidence has been found on certain worlds of this seeder race. But not even the Greys have ever found a trace of them. Since death is not a concern, you have time to learn huge amounts of wisdom. If you are a scientist you know all the sciences. This integration has enhanced technological progress to almost limitless degrees.

The Greys are the undisputed lords of technology. Interestingly enough just as Earth people exceeded design specifications, the hybrids also seem to be greater than the sum of their contributors. Well Tony we must go now. I hope you understand what I have tried to tell you. Again you may share this with the others. We will continue to answer your Q. We purposely skipped your comments concerning God or the ONE as it is called up there. It is a subject to complex to be gone over in a single response. It does exist, it is the core of all things. It is the bond that encompasses all things in all times. It is where all things become ONE.

A Written Response

I was being tested? Gee, and I thought your friends could simply use their ESP to find out what kind of man I am. <smile>

Seriously, the more you tell me, the more confused and hurt I get. From what you tell me, we humans on Planet Earth have been, are, and will be treated like cattle. You tell me that sentient beings from other planets have released plagues throughout history to correct the genetic pool. Are you kidding? All my life, I thought ETs were more enlightened than us here. Yet, if what you tell me was true, I'm not so sure any more. You talk about how we should be more humane and human to each other. Yet, we've been manipulated and killed secretly throughout history. Even if, Mr. X, as you say, ETs think most of us are animals, shouldn't they act human towards them? I mean, animals hurt and bleed also. How can humans from off-world, and people like yourself, let us get killed like this? It must have been one hell of an agreement you guys decided upon!

Myths tell us that mankind was kicked out of paradise a long time ago. Now you tell me, that in order to get back into paradise (with its miracles), we have to accept the deaths of 1/3rd of the populace. That's 1.5 BILLION people, Mr. X! And ETs have the nerve to call us animals! Couldn't those people who are deemed animals be relocated elsewhere? Why KILL them? So the Greys can talk with whales? Why not transport cetaceans to the Greys' world? What are we supposed to say after 2011 A.D.? "Gee, thanks guys for civilizing us by murdering us throughout history! We really appreciate those selective viruses you've thrown in recently!"

Yes Mr. X, I'm sure you've heard these arguments before (and I hope I don't come across as a boor). I'm also quite sure you're going to say: "Tony, what you think is irrelevant," and "Tony, if only you knew the wonders and miracles you'll soon experience." I'm not attacking you personally, Mr. X. I'm sure you know how confused I am. Doubtless, you've felt this way before you "volunteered."

By the way, how did you volunteer? Is there an ET or Time-Patrol recruiting agency near you? <smile>. More importantly, WHY did you volunteer? The "stakes are too high," you wrote. Does that mean you're trying to limit the amounts of deaths before 2011? You sound weary in your letters. There's no need to tell you how your fellow Earthmen think of you. Either you're perceived as a UFO nut, a "Space Brother," or a traitor to the human race. I personally hope you know what you're doing. 1.5 billion people (and I'm sure you don't think of them as animals, but simply misguided) is a huge price to pay to get "civilized."

So tell me, are the Greys in charge out there? What kind of human societies are on other planets? Like, who are these Elohim?

And what exactly will happen in 2011? Will spaceships land on Pennsylvania Ave and the hybrids come out of hiding? And why hybrids? I know you said they were a compromise solution, but what's wrong with having off world humans manage our affairs between us and the Greys? After 2011, will those that are "human" (and are ready to be civilized) have to assimilate a lot in the ET community? In other words, how much of our Earth culture will be left intact to share with non-Terrans? Or is culture a primitive idea out there?

Once again, I ask too many questions. If you're ever in [CENSORED], drop me a line, and we'll all have lunch together!

Oh yes, who is [your Friend]?

Anyway, whenever you can, please write back. I hope we can have a long running dialog.

Thanks.

"Tony"

Original Sin

Tony, Q.1) You are not being treated like cattle. If this were so mankind would have been extinguished long ago. Mankind is thought of as potential human beings. You have been manipulated over the years. The end result of this project is to end all further interference. I am sorry I had to build your emotional response up to this level, it was necessary. Again it is the correct response. The compassion you display for your fellow mankind is reassuring. If all Earth people felt this way things would be much simpler. This is not the case. All intelligent beings can be judged by their actions.

You have made a judgment based on what I have told you. This is what I had hoped. The sacrificing of 1\3 of a population for the benefit of the rest should cause you to become angry. Now that you are, here's the real purpose for it.

In the 1950's the US. government was engaged in a worldwide inoculation campaign. Smallpox was eliminated completely and many other diseases greatly reduced. Africa was a major recipient of this humanitarian effort. 50,000 African children were given polio vaccine that was HIV contaminated. Based on the standard you set in your responses. How should we view the people responsible for these actions? Mankind has begun his own eugenics project. Your right it must have been one hell of an agreement. Except we didn't make it. Your fellow man did! I am not permitted to discuss this matter further. Now you know why they have the nerve to call mankind animals.

Q.2) The garden of Eden and original sin. The first sin was not mankind's, it was the Elohim's. It was the result of the actions of a very misguided and selfish group of scientists and leaders. They genetically altered man for the purpose of slave labor and to enlarge their own vanity.

The worst part was that she gave them the power to reproduce on their own. Demand quickly out ran supply. It was necessary to alter the reproductive process in the females. The ability to conceive was increased from a yearly cycle to a lunar based one. Now females could conceive every 28 days, supply was greatly increased. These are the original sins. But don't worry the beings responsible were punished. This is the war that I spoke of. True there was more to it than simply man's plight but he was a major factor. Realize this though, had it not been for this interference it is doubtful that man would have achieved the evolutionary level required for civilization. The war was won by a group of females. They form an order that transcends all other loyalties. Women up there are much different than women down here in terms of social status and power. These women are in charge of all Earth related projects.

Q.3) Why don't the Greys go someplace else? This planet was discovered by the collective and therefore is a member. This makes this world their home just as all the other planets. The concept of exclusive ownership of a planet by a single group is not perceived. This is a world, it belongs to everyone. This is the purpose of planets. I told you things were different.

Q.4) Tony the relevance or irrelevance of your words are directly proportional to the desire in your heart. While there is thought and the desire that fuels them, there is always the possibility of relevance. It is you that must define the difference.

Q.5) 2011. Ask the Mayans. If you hadn't burned all their records in an attempt to civilize them you would already know.

Q.6) Volunteer. They are not time traveling. Even the Greys have not achieved temporal technology yet. Although in the more advanced psionics there does seem to be a possibility. How did I volunteer? Against the wishes of some I assure you. You have to get those two songs I told you about. Phil Collins and Peter Gabriel have a much more poetic explanation than I could give you. This is IMPORTANT Tony. It may sound ridiculous but their songs will explain much. It will also give you an understanding of the magnitude and scope of this project. I told you there is a lot more to this than man realizes.

Q.7) Limit deaths. Tony for the last 5,000 years man was sent teachers to try and relieve some of their suffering. There is nothing I can do that they have not already done. There are none so blind as those who will not see.

Q.8) Perception. If I didn't care I wouldn't be here. I am loyal to the human race. All of them!

Q.9) Societies. The collective is very class structured. It is lead by representation from all members. The human members have a class structure based on bloodlines. Sort of royal families if you will. Each family has its own societal structure within it but they all follow the same pattern. There is an order of females. They are the daughters of MA. They are in all the families. Their loyalty is to their own order which when viewed as a whole makes them extremely powerful. In the great war they stood by neutral while the families fought.

There was a stalemate which was not resolved until they joined the battle. It was they who decided the war's fate. When it was over man was supposed to be disposed of. These females interceded on man's behalf. They told the council they were prepared to go to war over mankind. Both factions wisely choose not to go to war with them. They were given responsibility for civilizing man and the rest as they say is history.

Here something I probably shouldn't tell you. The highest family are Sirius born. They were the first. Their world is called Sothis. The leader of the females is the daughter of this Sirian family. Her name is Ma Ra Ash. Their names are based on the contributing bloodline. On Earth she was called many names. She was worshiped as a Goddess. (They started religions at first simply to keep their human workers from defecting. I'm your god stay here worship me. Don't go over there that's an evil God. That sort of thing.) She was called Ma, Ash, Ish, Isis, etc. My favorite is Mara, which means, "the great virgin whose eyes shine like the stars" There were many other women known by other names. One in particular I'll discuss later. They were all worshiped as Goddesses. Oh yeah, I forgot, the Christ name for her is Mary.

Q.10) Elohim. This is the name of the combined ruling families. The rest are the Annunakki. In the Christian bible they are mentioned in Genesis as simply God (the original Hebrew word is Elohim. The bible translators really had a tough time with this one. Elohim means combined Gods and Goddesses. They simply lied and changed it to one. God. When you read Gen. substitute Elohim for God and it will make much more sense. Now you know why the bible says "Let US create man in OUR own image. Want a real thrill? Read Gen chapter 6 vs.1-6.)

Q.11) Assimilate. They have been preparing you for a long time now for their arrival. Man in the past simply obliterated less advanced cultures (i.e. the missionaries). They are giving you a period of time to prepare. You must determine what qualities really represent the term Earth Human. Then you must strengthen them so they will not be lost. A lot will be lost, that is unavoidable. But realize some of the things you hold of value are not in more advanced civilizations. Planetary ownership was a good example Some things you will find there simply no need for anymore. Money for one thing. This is probably the greatest change many faces.

Money system are an entire mechanism of control and separation. In the new world, all will have equal opportunity to achieve and acquire based on their abilities and desire. Not on a monetary standard of someone else's design and control. There will be people who have more and less. But the determining factor will be equality for all. You must decide which are important to you. You do not have that much time to do it. You may be surprised that most of the morale guidelines are already present. But then that's were they came from in the first place.

Q.12) [MY FRIEND]. Who is [My Friend]. She has blonde hair and blue eyes. She has a pet tiger.(full size not one of the miniature sims) She has a temper as hot as a super nova and compassion as tender as any mother. She wears the 3 crescent emblem which makes her about as high as you can get in rank. She is a soldier. She is a very sexy women. Get her mad and you find out she's not called the leader of the terrible ones for nothing. Touch her heart and she'll protect you with her last drop of blood. Her name means "Beautiful One". She is the most beautiful women I have ever Known. Her full name is [CENSORED] She is first order bloodline and [CENSORED]. She works much too hard and takes things much to serious. I have loved many things in my lifetime but none can compare to the love I feel for her. There's another song that would explain. Peter Gabriel, "In your eyes". We are friends you might say.

She doesn't really like Earth people though. She thinks they are primitive and all kinds of bad things. But without her protection man would be in serious shit. She helps me sometimes, want to ask her a question directly? I'll ask her. Well that's enough for now. Hope I didn't confuse you too much. Your right, I am weary of this all. I can't stand not being able to do more but in this particular form I am greatly diminished. When I get back home that's another matter.

You know Tony, it's amazing what you can get away with as long as people don't believe it's possible. There are over 50,000 beings on this planet who did not live here before they were born. They were all human anyway even up there. They are perfectly safe because we all know that things like that are impossible, right? Their job is recon and info dissemination. They are all what you know as the abductees. They all volunteered because they believed in you and your right to a better life. Hope it was worth it.

P.S. try to be outside at around 6:30 PM for the next few weeks. keep your eyes open. Who knows what you might see.

"Mr. X"

Do We Understand

Mr. X,

Let me recap what I know so far. 54000 years ago, my people were created to be the slaves of the Elohim. A great war was fought, humanity was freed and, if not for the kindness of women, would've been extinguished. These women were assigned to Earth, and have sent teachers amongst us the last 5000 years to help speed our development. But the former slaves have proven to be difficult students. They have had a hard time throwing off their savage tendencies. Now, it has been decided to speed things along since humanity has "exceeded design specifications." Eighteen years from now, men and women from planet Earth will start to really be human. Of course, mankind's bad apples, some 1.5 billion people, won't be there to learn. Man will finally join the ET community as a civilized peoples.

Hmmm....just my bad luck (or bad choice) to have been born on the cesspool of the galaxy.

Mr. X, you seem reluctant to tell me what will happen in 2011. I understand. You don't want to give away the game plan, especially to a native. I was just curious to find out how you guys were going to teach us to be civilized. If you can pull that one off, it would be a miracle. (I'm writing this at the same time those idiots in Moscow are killing themselves. You know, I'm beginning to understand why we're looked down upon as animals. The shootings in Moscow are embarrassing...) Did all planets start this way? Was everybody uncivilized until they themselves were taught different?

Also, the idea of royal bloodlines and class structure sounds....quaint. I thought everyone would be equal up there. Is class structure based on birth, or some other criteria, like level of ESP, enlightenment and such? Who is MA? And what about the men in the collective? If you have a copy of The History Of The Collective in English or French, I'll be glad to read it. <grin>

Since you insist I listen to those two pop songs, I will get them this week. I'm not sure why you deem them important, but I'll give it a shot.

As for your invitation to ask [Your Friend] something, thank you but frankly, I don't know what to ask the "Leader of the Terrible Ones," especially since she doesn't like us Terrans.

And speaking of us, Mr. X, I thought you were a Terran. What do you mean "in this particular form I am greatly diminished. When I get back home that's another matter."

As for the 50 000 volunteers here on Earth. What do they do all day? Print pamphlets? <smile>I suspect they infiltrate volunteer organizations like Greenpeace and such to raise our level of consciousness. Are you assigned to [CENSORED]? And why would anybody object to you volunteering? (Sorry for asking too many personal questions, but like I was taught in graduate school, always question the source of information.)

As for looking up in the sky, I'm kinda hoping I won't see anything. <smile> It's hard to find out that your ancestors were slaves. Lights in the sky would probably scare the shit out of me.<smile> Just reading your letters makes my heart beat faster.

Once again, thanks for answering my questions. Take your time answering them too. You don't have to rush it on my account. (You always end your letters as if you're in a hurry).

Thanks.

Best of All Types

Tony, Q.1) Summary. Everything is okay up to 18 years from now. Man will not join for quite some time. He will be in apprenticeship you might say.

Q.2) 2011. That depends on man. Read up on the Mayans, particular interest should be paid to the Plumed Serpent. You know as a result of the colonization of the new world, as many as 60 million native Americans in both hems. died. This was from disease or outright warfare.

Q.3) Teach us. Tony the saddest thing of all is that man expects someone else to make him civilized. There is nothing more to be done. Man must want to change. I truly cannot comprehend why this is not so. I have been alive 33 years and have experienced many aspects of this world. I know how hard it is. Yet I still do not understand why mankind doesn't get it. Maybe they were right. Sometimes you have to just admit the mistake and start over. I argued strongly against this you know. I begin to suspect that I may have erred. We shall see. Don't worry though, no one is going to exterminate man I promise.

Q.4) All planets. No. This world was interfered with. The natural evolution was corrupted. On normal worlds a species develops and begins to be intelligent. There may be several types of the same species evolving at the same time. While they are still primitive the most advanced type will kill off the males of competing types. He will then take the choicest of the others females and breed with them. Eventually only one dominant species remains. But because of the interbreeding with captive females the best traits of the others are passed on. The result is a homogenous mixture of the best of all types. These will then go on to advance at a greatly accelerated pace.

Eventually they achieve high technology. This does not mean there will always be peace. Sometimes there is no peaceful solution to a problem. An advanced being is not just all light and flowers. He or she has balanced their essence to contain all qualities in perfect relation to one another. They must have the strength to confront evil and the compassion to use strength wisely. This is one of the problems now facing the Greys. They have an imbalance in there make-up. It is hoped the hybrid project will solve this. You see Tony the are almost totally non violent. Now what is the one quality man possesses in abundance. You begin to understand?

Q.5) Class structure. It is the most efficient. Not everyone is born equal. Some are smart some are not. Some are hard workers some are not. An advancing civilization must utilize the best assets that it has. In order to achieve something someone has to achieve it. You would not waste resources on someone who could not do the job. To force someone to be something they are not is just as bad. The law of Ma says, "All people are not equal but all people shall have equal opportunity under the law." It works. A person can achieve anything they commit themselves to do, nothing is withheld. They find there level and do it. This uses the right asset in the most efficient manner.

The great families rule by virtue of there bloodline. Remember they were achievers to get were they are. This provides stability of leadership in a well rounded way. Since all are related by marriage and bloodline the chances of conflict are greatly reduced. This does not always work. The human race is the result of a breakdown in this order.

Q.6) Ma. The human men in the collective are just like the females in terms of individual ability and status. The women have an order which transcends the boundaries of family loyalties. When they act as a whole they are a united force combining the female units of all the families. Ma was the founder of this order, long ago.

You know almost all of what I'm telling you is already out there. I'm just putting it all together for you. Over the years a lot of this was subliminally introduced into mans reality. The methods varied from songs to movies to books, etc. The trick was to introduce knowledge without scaring people. Some of your greatest artists and writers were contributors. The two songs are an example. Frank Hubert's , Dune is about as close as you will get to a history of the collective and the future of mankind. Read it then I'll explain.

Q.7) [My Friend]. You offend me and yet will I defend you. Learn human. Be wise. Do not offend. It is your future after all.

Q.8) Terran.

Q.9) 50,000. They wash dishes. they bear children. They go to school. They do all the things that you and everyone else does. They also are the donors for the genetic material the Greys need. When they return they will know exactly what the problems are here. The sociological planners can use this information to help in developing integration plans. Almost all are Earth humans who were taken off the planet when the collective withdrew. They were the house servants and close companions of the Annunaki. To leave them would have ruined the chances for normalizing human development. The are on an equal footing up there. See it is possible for you to change.

Q.10) Ancestors. You haven't realized what I've been trying to tell you. Your ancestors are Annunaki. There is not a single original indigenous Earth human left. Every person on this planet is an Annunaki/earth human hybrid. They realize this, why can't you. Tony ,they're not in the extermination business. Had they wished you would have been gone long ago. The only one killing man now is man himself. They believe in you and all mankind. Can't you people believe in yourselves. Well that's all for now Tony. Good questions, keep them coming. Mr. X,

I'm glad you find the questions good. I definitely will keep them coming. Every answer leads to another question, however.

I know man would be in an apprenticeship program. Anything else would be foolhardy. But, exactly how long do you estimate will we be in an apprenticeship program? Everything you told me indicates that the Collective thinks in the long term.

I also know man expects others to teach him to be civilized. THAT's why I asked how you were going to pull it off in 2011. You can't force anyone to be good, no matter how hard you try. And THAT's why I asked what you and the 50000 volunteers were doing here exactly. If you tell some people to be good to avoid death before 2011, they probably will be on their best behavior only to avoid death, not because it's the decent thing to do. From what I understand, you disseminate information, and hope we get the message on our own.

Mr. X, you say you still don't understand why man cannot get the message. Surely you know the frustrations, the bullshit, the traffic jams, the tax bills, the divorces, the fear of death, the fear of illness, the grind of everyday work. There are 5 billion people here living a life of quiet desperation. We're caught up in the trivialities of life. Life has been hard to us since before the great war you spoke of. We never had the amenities, the "miracles" you've enjoyed. We are the product of our environment. Since there is so much insanity on this planet, we were taught to act in the same manner. Enlightenment would come on only in increments. Take me for example. For years I was a fool. I was in the [Army]. I believed in the military way of life, and the whole nine yards. And I believed in the military's mission. To fight wars. But slowly, bit by bit, I realized the utter ridiculousness of it all. I don't remember if it came to me in an epiphany, but I realized I wasn't being true to myself. The point is, everybody gets caught in the trivialities and stupidities here. You just have to repeat your message until it gets past our defenses. Like Peter Gabriel, we're waiting for someone to say "Grab your things, I'm taking you home" where there is no bullshit.

Also, I was surprised when I read: "[Friend of Mr. X]. You offend me and yet will I defend you." Did I offend anybody? If I did, it was unintentional, believe me. I apologize.

You're right about the ancestors question. I assumed the Elohim played around with apes genetically. So we are related with beings in the Collective.

I've read Frank Herbert's Dune a couple of years ago. A very spiritual book. In fact, your whole message, Mr. X, is spiritual. Are you saying that by reaching outwards towards space, mankind will find the answers spiritually, within themselves? Truth is stranger than fiction.

Were there any other planets in the same predicament as us? How did they fare in the end? And after our apprenticeship program, what will be the relationship of us on planet Earth and the Collective. I assume we will be at the bottom of the ladder, in terms of the royal families. I mean, you said mankind is the result of a breakdown in the class structure. Do you mean, that because of the war 54000 years ago, that fences still haven't been mended between different groups in the Collective.

I'm also starting to understand the hybrid question. The Greys are starting to look less and less menacing. However, books like Communion portray the Greys as very heavy handed with us. You mentioned they are in contact with the cetaceans here. What exactly will happen with cetaceans in 2011?

Well, I hope my questions aren't too vague. Once again, let me apologize for any remarks that were offensive.

Thanks.

"Tony"

Son of Thunder

Tony, [My Friend] didn't mean you personally. It was kind of a joke on her part. She was plagiarizing a women they use to call Isis. She was just trying to play the heavy. Actually that's a very interesting topic. Hardly anyone knows the real power behind Jesus or Quatzelcoatl whichever you want to call him was a deity called Thunder. This is why he surnamed his disciples "Ben Regaz" or "Son of Thunder". Thunder is the Egyptian Goddess Isis. Women such as Mary Magdeline and Salome were the high priestesses of the temple in Jerusalem. At the time there were two gods in Israel. The god Chemos and the goddess Ashera. Notice the spelling? Ashera was the Goddess of Moses (Miriam was the real leader, Moses isn't even Jewish. Its Egyptian and means birth.) and Solomon and Jesus. That's why he appeared first to women.

There is a whole lot more but the main point is if you look hard enough you can find a lot of this. These women are called by the name Ashtereh for one and Astheroth for plural. Anyway to make a long story short, Ash got really upset because the Christians stole her religion and made her into a bad goddess. She said to one, "you worship my laws and yet you mock me." [My Friend] was making a play on these words and others.

Q.1) How long. That is entirely up to man. After the Greys and hybrids come you can start taking advantage of the tech. Big changes need to be made though. If you eliminate death then you also have to control birth. The Greys want Africa as there main home. The hybrids will be in the US.

Q.2) Any others.

No. Q.3) Relationship. Man is already part of the collective. You will be treated as such if you grow up. The war was not fifty k BC it was started in 8k and over by 3k. The major battles took place around 3.5k B.C.

Q.4) Fences. There is still disagreement over man. Most of the rebels were killed. [My Friend] and the others were most efficient. Hopefully that was the last conflict the collective will know.

Q.5) Greys The Greys are the most boring race you have ever met. They worship technology once they are here they will not permit further slaughter of cetaceans. they will not interfere in their development, only observe and protect. I am glad you are trying to grew spiritually Tony. The Earth isn't such a bad place, its just a planet of extremes. They realize the hardships man has faced. They will work with man to help himself. It saddens them to see all the pain and suffering. The Earth people who are up there now really want to come home. They will be a big help to you. Your society will be greatly changed but the core of who you are will survive.

The hope is that in 500 years a man will look at a Norman Rockwell painting and still be able to see more than just a good painting.

"Mr. X"

Intervention and Nuclear Weapons

Mr. X,

I'm glad I was just being teased.

So, the Greys are a boring race? I wonder..what do they call themselves? Surely it's not "The Greys." What do you call them? So they want Africa...I take it there will be hybrids in Africa to mediate between Africans and Greys. What do cetaceans think of all this? Are they sentient beings? And the Hybrids want to live in the U.S? Tell them to avoid Florida. They shoot Canadians down there.

By the way, the famous story of the Roswell Crash in 1947...is it true and was it the Greys who crashed? I remember reading a novel by Whitley Strieber that depicted the Greys crashing on purpose. I find that hard to believe. If it is true, then that means the U.S. government knows about the Greys. What has the ET community done about it, if the story is true?

Also Mr. X, aren't you taking a risk in [.....CENSORED]? If someone reports your letters to those guys in Langley, Virginia, you might find the CIA all over you.

Are there any other polities in space apart from the Collective? Just how many people does it encompass? Is Space travel regulated with respect to Earth? In other words, can anybody from the Collective visit Earth any time they wanted?

I was also wondering....If President Clinton, say, goes insane tomorrow morning and orders his military commanders to fire ICBMs at some country, and the country fires back.... Will you guys intervene and neutralize those missiles? Because if you do, then you have to implement your 2011 plan immediately. And if you don't, then the 2011 plan will be useless. Has the ET community taken into account Nuclear and Environmental ...uh...incidents between now and 2011? I hope you say yes to intervention. Nuclear weapons have been like a Sword of Damocles over my head all my life.

Also, you mentioned the Seeder race that planted planets with our DNA in the distant past. Does anybody know why they did it? Why the human form? Are humans in their image?

500 years to "graduate?" Does that mean that everybody in 2011 will age more slowly, or will our children enjoy the Universe? You mentioned you're 33, but does that mean you will live centuries?

I was also curious...What do ETs eat? We have to slaughter millions of cows, chickens fish, etc every year to sustain ourselves. During the apprenticeship era, will we...I dunno...learn to avoid eating animals? I know its a silly question but I had to ask it.

You also mentioned Frank Herbert and Dune. I remember the characters in that book traveled by "folding Space." Is that what you meant with the "pissed-off" faster-than-light drive ETs use?

Thanks.

Tony, Q.1) The Greys don't call themselves anything. They are known as the Delphohim, the sea gods. In fact, one of the most important ancient sites was named after them. Delphi. Africa will be theirs since there will not be anyone living there. The hybrids will travel freely between the two, E-hums (earth humans) will not.

Q.2) Cetaceans. They love everybody, seriously.

Q.3) Roswell. An incident occurred involving a small transport craft. They still use a modified E-hum as workers and companions. There are two types. They are not used as slaves! They were created by genetically altering a E-hum fetus. Some of the alts [alterations] are a) elimination of the puberty cycle. b) growth factor hormone inhibition, Techs=4.5ft., Workers=3.5ft. Five techs were lost on this flight. Tony that's why the US is so reluctant to talk about this they found humans not aliens The craft was brought down by a very unusual type of lightning called a proton superbolt. (Please spread this all over the place Tony. I gave this information to someone and they used it for their own personal gain)

Q.4) Risk. No. The only agency reading our mail is NSA. Don't worry this was anticipated and desired.

Q.5) Others. There are no other non members within collective controlled space. This includes 5 main colony zones and 4 frontiers. There is one hostile presence. I am not permitted to talk of this. They are very similar to a fictitious character on Star Trek, known as the borg. These guys are a lot more efficient though. The collective would not be practical for them to take on so your safe. And now so are the Greys. No one is permitted access to the Earth except for Grey genetic teams which are strictly monitored by collective bio research personnel. [My Friend] is in charge of the security contingent. She has 50 legions at her immediate disposal and another 250 reserve.

Q.6) Nukes. There are geo stationary platforms in orbit. They monitor the status of each nuclear device on Earth and in space. [My Friend] has orders to immediately seize the planet in the event of a full nuclear launch attempt. This would not be permitted as has been demonstrated to all nuclear powers on the earth. They have the capability to deactivate all weapons simultaneously.

Q.7) Seeders. This is a great question. It has puzzled everybody for a long time, even the Greys. All the habited planets have the same basic genetic pool. That's why the Greys even though from another world are dolphins and the Annunaki are all humans. Only human and cetacean sentient life has been discovered so far. No reptilian. The earth on the other hand might have been the exception. In its early period the evolutionary scheme seems to have been going wrong. This is what is called the dinosaur age. It appears that the Seeders decided the conditions were not conducive enough for advanced mammal life of the desired type.

They literally changed the entire ecosystem of the earth to rectify this. The #5 planet in this solar system was destroyed. Pieces of it were dragged to the other planets to change their orbits. This is what you call the asteroid belt. The largest piece you see almost every night it is the moon. (great place to swim, underground 4th lev.) This caused a massive change in the earth. Their was a lot of meteor impact but this was insignificant compared to the moons arrival. It killed off all the large land reptiles and made conditions right for present fauna.

Q.8) Graduate. No they won't age more slowly. Eventually all E-hums will travel. The time depends on you. I am 33 now, before was much older. This body could not be regenerated to last more than a few hundred years, the upkeep would outweigh the benefits. Enhanced bodies are modified genetically before implantation or while they are growing in the artificial womb chamber. Depending on whether its the first regen body or a replacement. Birth is pretty rare anyway.

Q.9) Eat. Most are vegetarians as a matter of choice. They find the notion of putting decaying animal flesh in there mouths repugnant. The Greys eat a fish based paste. Some eat meat, not the E-hums up there though, they like to distinguish themselves. They believe it makes them look more advanced. I personally find meat delicious and hope to continue when I return. They don't slaughter animals. It's grown in accelerators just like regen. bodies. People on the earth will probably give it up as a statement of image. Q.10) Dune. It is very similar to the travel used by the big ships. The Greys really have the tech down. It is better called connecting space than folding. The trick is to induce a resonance field in matter of such a high frequency and amplitude that it reverses the outward flow of energy at the atomic level. This is similar to the process at the event horizon of a black hole. Matter tries to get this disturbance as far from it as possible. Well that's enough for tonight. Hope you enjoyed. And yes I have been assigned to [CENSORED]. We just haven't figured out the best way to use it yet.

"Mr. X"

UFO Abductees and “The Collective”

Mr. X,

So the National Security Agency is monitoring your mail? I'm not surprised. Those guys are probably the highest paid paranoids in the country. I can see some of your reluctance in answering my 2011 questions. I'm not the only person reading this.

Why will Africans be kicked out of their homes? Where will they go? Is it because the Delphohim find our presence painful to be around?

Delphi was named after them, as well? My family comes from Greece, so I find this interesting. However, I don't remember the Greys or beings similar to them in ancient Greek mythology.

I'm glad cetaceans love everybody. It's a wonder they don't hate us for what we've done. I've always liked them. I bought a picture titled "Dance of the Dolphins" last year. In fact, I was supposed to go whale-watching this month, but it was canceled. Maybe next year.

Did any of those altered humans in the Roswell crash live to be captured? Did the Collective recover the transport craft? I can't imagine leaving it in the government's hands. What motivates modified Earth humans to be techs and workers (and missing out on puberty)? We're they asked to be genetically altered? (By the way, I would like to assure you that I will never use what you tell me for financial or prestigious gain. In fact, I have you to thank for giving me some hope. I've been depressed and bored these last couple of yours. Your letters have stimulated me considerably. You've taken me into your confidence, and I can do no less.)

If abductees are volunteers, why do they act as "victims" on TV and the books? The very term "abductees" conjures up images of people acting against their will. People like Bud Hopkins parade them in the media as suffering a trauma, and who need to go into hypnosis in order to recall their experience with the Greys. Is this a subtle attempt to keep the public conscious of the ET community? Either abductees (volunteers) deserve an Oscar for their performances, don't know their true identity or mission, or we're not talking about the same people.

One good thing about the mystery of the Seeders is that they have left us a mystery. The universe is not all cut and dried, after all. I'm sure they'll show themselves sooner or later, especially since they're time travelers. After all, who ever heard of "Gods" not showing themselves to their children?

My friend, the hardened skeptic, has asked me to ask you about the 50 legions. If one applies Frank Herbert's definition of a legion (30 000 troops /legion), then that's 1.5 million troops, and that's not including support troops. He'd like to know where they're stationed. On Earth? They must be nearby to be on standby. Personally, I'm glad we're not going to be permitted to nuke ourselves. The future is looking brighter and brighter.

The idea of switching bodies every couple of centuries is interesting. "In this form I am greatly reduced," you wrote. Does this mean that your present body is specifically designed to live on Earth? Can people design their bodies? (If that's true, then that means that everybody up there is beautiful and handsome.) Or are there are specific guidelines on a person's physical form? Mr. X, do you look the same as you did when you climbed up Solsbury hill? Does an Earth human look similar to an average Collectivian? What kind of striking features do some of the people in the Collective have?

Since women in the Collective no longer give birth, and since genetic engineering appears to be the norm in the Collective, why are there still two sexes? Is everybody androgynous in the Collective or is there a "vive la difference" mentality to this subject?

Since death is not feared, what does a race(s) of Immortals do? Won't people run out of things to do after living thousands of years? I imagine the Elohim who enslaved us must have been bored and decided to play God. Do people eventually get tired of life in the Collective? Can they die if they want to? If there is no death in the Collective, how does society rejuvenate itself?

I've also read up on the Mayans and mesoamerican culture. I was surprised when a historian wrote:

"The Maya generally believed that the universe had passed through at least three previous ages, with the present age beginning on a date corresponding to 3114 BCE. Time was moving systematically toward the end of the present cycle on December 23, 2012 CE."

[David Carrasco, Religions of Mesoamerica (San Francisco, Harper & Row, 1990), p. 114]

The Mayans were only a year off! That means that the Collective planned this since the end of the war (3114 BC, I take it). Mr. X, you weren't kidding! A five thousand year old plan! Amazing. I'm surprised you haven't allotted a time frame for the next era. I mean, if someone decided to give us 5000 years (and not a second more) of preparation, why hasn't there been a time frame for the next? Unless its been decided to treat each person here as individual cases. (It strikes me as odd that now, in the home stretch (18 years to go) some in the Collective wish to abort the 5000 year old plan.)

The Mayans also had an interesting way of measuring time. Does any planet in the Collective measure time like the Mayans did? The Mayan long count had a base of 20, unlike the present system of 10.

For instance,

1 kin=1 day

20 kins=1 uinal

18 uinals=1 tun or 360 days

20 tuns=1 katun or 7200 days

20 katuns=1 baktun or 144000 days

Does the Collective measure time in units of 52 years, as in the Mayan "Long Count"?

The Aztecs believed that Man had five eras or cycles of time. In the First Age, "a struggle between the gods ensued, resulting in a collapse of the cosmos, and according to one tradition, its reorganization by the winning deity, Tezcatlipoca."

I take this to mean the war between the different factions in the Collective. Tezcatlipoca, I assume, was one of the good guys.

In the Second Age, beings "were carried away by wind."

I take this to mean that Earth humans who were the companions of the Elohim were taken with them back to the Collective.

In the Third Age, "fire rained on people and they became turkeys."

I have no idea what this means.

In the Fourth Age, "water swallowed the people and they became fish."

I have no idea what this means.

In the Present Age, "this age would end in earthquakes and famine."

I take this to mean that the next 18 years will be difficult ones. <smile>

You've also implied that Jesus and Quetzalcoatl (or Kukulcan) were the same person. Legends tell us that Quetzalcoatl was exiled by Tezcatlipoca. Now, I thought Tezcatlipoca defeated the renegade Elohim in the war, years earlier. If she/he did exile Quetzalcoatl, what was the reason? Aren't Quetzalcoatl and Tezcatlipoca on the same side? Like Jesus in Judea, did Quetzalcoatl have to leave, promising to return? And where is he now?

Man, I've really laid the questions on you this time. I've been looking at the Bible for the first time in years. I'll ask those questions at a different time. <smile>

Thanks!

"Tony"

E-hums and A-damu

Tony, We are very pleased. These questions are very good.

Q.1) NSA. These men and women are dedicated and perform a service vital to this country's security. They are people just like every one else. They already know much of what I am telling you but not all.

Q.2) Africans. The African nations have the highest Aids population. Even most of there leaders are infected now. There will not be any left really to relocate.

Q.3) Delphi This temple is best known for the Apollo cult. Before this however it was a worship place for the goddess Delphyne, the sea goddess. She was assigned to work with, guess who, in the ocean research projects. Part of this was straightforward oceanography, the second part was resource extraction. The first plan was to extract the dissolved material from water. This failed. Main operation were shifted to land mining. This was very hard work and led to a revolt by a large number of Annunaki. There was a big fight and a change in the leadership. The younger generation Elohim assumed control of Earth operations. As a concession to the rebels a slave worker was created. E-hums or as they called them A-damu which means man of Earth. I am digressing, sorry.

A plan was conceived to detonate a large number of thermonuclear devices inside underwater volcanoes. The intent was to bring large quantities of material to the surface. The project wreaked havoc on the shorelines of the continents and caused excessive amounts of precipitation. This occurred in around 11,500 B.C. At the time some thought that e-hums were a mistake and that they should not be evacuated from the coasts. Many Annunaki smuggled humans onboard storage barges and they did survive. The whole point why I'm telling you this is. As a result a declaration was made that stated that e-hums were humans and would not be destroyed for their own good.

Q.4) Mythology. The Greys were mostly found in Australia but did serve with Annunaki at Delphi.

Q.5) Roswell. The craft was not recovered as most of the components were damaged beyond repair. The drive was totally gone. Let man have it to introduce some basic technology. The one tech that didn't die was not rescued. This would have caused more problems than would have been gained in a retrieval.

Q.6) Modified. The workers have an intellect of a 3.5 to 5.0 year old human child, techs are larger and age 7.0 to 9.0 relative intellect. They are quite happy with what they do. They are well cared for in all respects. Some Annunaki have workers as pets in a way. But these pets can think and feel like a child. There has been some debate as to whether they fill a need in some for offspring. It may be true. The reason for why their modified is simple. The first e-hum workers were called the black headed ones. They were large and hard to control.

The beings used today are kept from reaching puberty to limit aggression causing hormones. The small stature requires less food and is physically manageable. They are perpetual children. They have rights and can do what ever they like when not working. Just like everybody else The small workers are thought of as cute. Have you ever heard someone say, "kittens are so cute I wish they would stay kittens." The workers do.

Q.7) Confidence. Thank you for letting me send these to you. I'm glad they are interesting to you and your friends. You are free to share these letters with all and are encouraged to do so. This is part of the reason we do this. The only condition is this. My name must not appear on any copies you give out. No one is to know the source of information.

Q.8) Abductees. We're not talking about the same people. In order to maintain the safety of those here I can not discuss certain aspects. We don't want a witch hunt on our hands. There is a core abduction population of approximately 50K. This number fluctuates do to deaths/ extractions and births/ insertions. The rest are simply decoys. Most people think their nuts and most of them are. Works out nice, doesn't it?

Q.9) Legions. The size of a Annunaki legion is 6000 soldiers plus 200 commanders, 3 unit commanders 1 legion commander. Some are stationed at the ocean base beneath the Atlantic ocean floor. Some are on the station keeping ship above the N. Pole. Some are on the moon. A large amount are on mars beneath the north polar region. Reserves are at various stations throughout the collective. Tony these units are not here because of any threat from the Earth.

Q.10) Bodies. I am human Tony, I was born here and I will die here. I remember standing at a darkened view station right before I came. The Earth looked so peaceful it is hard to mesh that picture with what I have experienced here. [My Friend] was on my right looking down with me. She didn't want me to go, she felt there was no need. I had discussed this with Kahn Chi and he felt it might be worth it. He's the best friend you have up there, he loves e-hums and he's in a position of great influence. I remember seeing crying, I'm one of the few that has and lived to tell about it. When I get home things will be much clearer. No, I don't look the same. I'm a lot taller and a little less dense. My family is the family [CENSORED]. My full name is [CENSORED]. I was first level bloodline. Which has certain advantages, like getting the reservoir chamber to yourself, your lady and her tiger for a nice swim. You ever swim with a tiger Tony. The cat was pretty fun to swim with too, smile They try to push you underwater with those oversized paws and if you hold onto there tail they'll pull you around for awhile.

Q.11) Features. Tony read the history from anywhere on the Earth. You'll find descriptions of the various types. They will use terms like gods, goddesses, angels, rishi, devas. You ever heard of an ugly goddess?

Q.12) Birth. Women do still give birth and even naturally if they want. It just doesn't occur at the same rate as down here. Why the two sexes? You gotta be kidding. Any idea what its like to have an orgy where all the people are connected telepathically? Know what its like with just that one special person? Play is a measure of the intelligence of a species. We play a lot.

Q.13) Do? There is no end to knowledge. There is no end to anything. Every possibility is explored.

Q.14) Die. No the network would pull you back if it happened accidentally. No one chooses death. This would let nature choose a random container all experience and knowledge would be lost. By possessing the same form you break the law of reincarnation. This is what Jesus meant when he said, "I come not to destroy the law, but to free you from it." He was talking about collective regeneration technology.

Q.15) Ages. Welcome to the 6th sun. Almost. Your correct the project has been going on for thousands of years. Time is the one thing there's plenty of up there

Q.16) Abort. Some believe man has failed. They are not allowed to exterminate man. They believe he should be refined through selective culling of deficient genetic contributors. Remember this applies to e-hums that are not considered human but animals that talk. The rules of conduct are different for animals and sentient life. They view this as ensuring mans survival. They feel it is their fault and they need to correct it. With the present spread of aids this appears to be a mute point.

Q.17) 52 is a Sirian standard. It has to do with the orbit of the neutron star. How did the Mayans know this? The same way the Dogons and Egyptians knew. A time system for the earth was developed based on the lunar cycle. Ironically the geneticists used this as the cycle for e-hum female ovulation enhancement.

Q.18) Ages. The ages or "suns" as they were called started when the Mayans left Aztlan (white place) from Lebanon (white mountain) . If you look at a Mayan you will find that they are identical to the Hittites, because they are. Mayan royalty engaged in circumcision. If you want you can read the whole story in genesis. It's the story of Cain. The city of Enoch that they built is the city TEnoch. The T means by god or of God. Here's the time line. 1st sun (age of the white haired giants) .

Annunaki are very tall. The flood as recorded by the Mayans ended the first age. 2nd SUN (Golden age) Things were pretty peaceful. 3rd SUN (Age of the red haired people) these are Orion miners. Pleiades are tall and blonde. This age was brought down by the great war. 4th Sun (age of the black haired people) This is after the war. Quetzal-coatl is sent by the great mother Coatlicue (Aztec) . He teaches man to stop the sacrifices. This is where the saying "water swallowed them and they became fish". The water is baptismal and fish is the symbol of Jesus, Pisces. This symbol was the sacred symbol of Isis. Now the Mayan would be fishers of men. Qz wandered all over the Americas, from south America all the way to Canada.

Finally it was time to go. He didn't want to go, there was much yet to be done. The following is a song he sung. A lament he made a song. About his going away and sang. Our mother. The goddess with the mantle of snakes. Is taking me with her, as her child. I weep. The person sent to retrieve him was a goddess named Xochiquetzal One of her symbols was the dove, which the Mayans called her holy spirit. Remember when Jesus was baptized, And the holy spirit descended on him like a dove. It was quite a scene. There is much more to this particular topic but now is not the time. I will reveal something to you that may surprise you.

When Qz left he promised to return. The Mayan built a huge monument to him. It was a sign which meant, we're this way. They symbol was from what Qz told them about his life across the ocean. He said the men he taught over there rejected him. They hung him on a tree between two thieves. This legend they turned into a symbol which is on the front of a mountain. It is the first thing you will see approaching from the sea. Directly behind is the plain of Nazca. Ever hear of Nazarenes, Jesus was the most famous.

I've tried to cram this all in as best as I could. When Qz left there was one more teacher sent. His name was Mohammad, his mothers name was Fatima, Fa-Ti__Ma. I hope this helps you to understand them a little more. Many people are not sure if they're hostile. Do you think the people who sent these teachers mean man any harm?

Mr. X,

No, I personally don't think these teachers meant us any harm. I just wish they were a little less cryptic. Though, to be fair, I'm sure it was difficult to explain regeneration technology to 1st century Judeans.

I find the government's behavior puzzling. If they know what will happen in 2011, why do they still maintain an interest in things that will be meaningless in 2011 the deficit, exports, Savings & Loan scandal, and such? Why the charade?

6000 men per legion sounds more realistic. However, isn't 300 000 troops too much for little old Earth? I would imagine only 1/3rd of this force can seize the planet. Unless of course, these Borg-like beings are nearby. My friend asks, that since Earth humans are so aggressive, would they not make good recruits for the Legion? Furthermore, did the Martian garrison have anything to do with the disappearance of the MARS OBSERVER probe recently?

The poor Africans are going to die for nothing. They're one of the most oppressed peoples on Earth. They're subjected to racism, poverty and now AIDS.

And speaking of children, Mr. X, I find the plight of the workers and techs a little shocking. Pets?! Earth humans are genetically altered to be Annunaki pets and workers?? It sounds economical. These Terrans fly transport craft and fetch slippers! I'm sure they're happy, but who hell wants to be a child for all of eternity? I mean, they could've been adults with intelligence. Don't you think Mr. X, that by creating beings to be dependent on you (by making them docile child-pets), that you're hindering their progress? Can these people grow intellectually and spiritually? During the Apprenticeship age, will we ourselves have some of our aggression causing hormones limited? I hope you tell me that there will be a new relationship with these techs and workers in 2011.

How are people rewarded or punished in the Collective? If there is no money, how is power, leisure, awards given to people? Why do Collectivians work? Why do Orions mine, for instance? Can people climb up the class structure? I know you said leadership is based on ability, but if one applies himself for centuries in learning leadership, will he be allowed into the aristocracy if has the ability eventually?

Your description of the mining revolt sounds like it was a strike. How exactly does the Collective handle disputes? I mean, if everyone is immortal, don't people resent the static leadership in the royal families? Or are Annunaki with leadership potential married into the royal families? Does leadership change with every generation? If so, what do formal leaders do for the rest of eternity?

I know I asked what Immortals do with eternity before, but I can't imagine at the moment people not getting fed up with life. It must truly be different out there. I mean....don't Collectivians suffer at all? You must....but what? The only thing I can think of is suffering from broken hearts and shame. You don't fear death (not for yourself, your relatives, nor loved ones), illness, nor old age. All your physical needs are met. You've also implied that no one is bored in the Collective. Is there loneliness even with telepathy?

You said that one day you "will die" on Earth. My friend might say that you slipped up (and are a UFO nut) , but I think you mean something different. Do you mean that when your present body wears itself out, you will "die," get a new body, and go back to the Collective? I don't suppose changing bodies counts as a reincarnation. Mr. X, did God intend it that way? In other words, is it a natural evolution when man "breaks the law of reincarnation"? Does God want us to rejoice in physical life for all of eternity? Are Earth humans the only ones who reincarnate? Is reincarnation synonymous with spiritual backwardness?

On a lighter note, it's good to see a less serious side in you, Mr. X. Telepathic Orgies! Is that like kissing someone's soul directly? I've gotta try that someday. <grin> And you swim with tigers. What bravery!

Kahn Chi sounds like a good man. I'm glad he likes us. Is he a director of sorts? What exotic names you all have. I noticed he only has two syllables in his name, unlike you or [My Friend]. Does that mean that different planets use different conventions in naming themselves? I suspect we'll be urged to adopt Collectivian names in favor of our own after 2011. By the way Mr. X, since you shared your real name with me, I'll tell you my full name. It's Tony [CENSORED]. (I'm sure you and the NSA either know that or can easily find out) .

I'm starting to see the Collective's handiwork throughout history. A lot of puzzles however. What was the significance of the planet Venus? Ashtoreth was more commonly known as Astarte (by the Phoenicians, Canaanites, Aramaeans) , Ishtar (by the Babylonians and Assyrians) and Aphrodite by the Greeks. Yet the Romans for some reason called the "Goddess" Venus. Mayan legends say Venus was where Quetzalcoatl went to after his "exile." The Mayans also either figured out or were told that the Venusian year was 584 days (it's actually 583.92) .

And speaking of the Mayans, why did their royalty believe that by cutting themselves open, the "gods would pass through them." Did they have some crude understanding of genetics? Why did the Mayans believe that by piercing one's genitals, they would get visions of the gods?

What is the Collectivian symbol for wisdom or power? Is it a serpent-like symbol? The snake has been associated with wisdom throughout history. It was a snake who tricked Eve into eating an apple from the "tree of knowledge" in the garden of Eden. Medusa and her hair of snakes turned men into stone with but a glance. Archaeologist have excavated Minoan statues of a "Goddess" (dating from 1550 BC) with snakes in each of her hands. Jesus said:" Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents; and harmless as doves." (ST. Mathew, ch. 10, v.16) Quetzalcoatl was the "Plumed Serpent." Xochiquetzal, "the goddess with the mantle of snakes" took Quetzalcoatl away. Medicine's traditional symbol is two snakes intertwining.

I've also checked out Genesis in the Bible. I have re-interpreted some of the passages. Are they correct?

"That the sons of God saw the daughters of men and they were fair; and they took them wives all which they chose."

Either this means that the Elohim created us or simply that the Annuaki found Earth women attractive and made love to them. I suspect they didn't marry them. <smile>

"There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown."

The Pleidians had Earth offspring who lived a long time and were very wise.

"And it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart."

I take this to mean that the winning side of the war saw the mess the renegade Elohim made here on Earth. They opened a 'Pandora's box' by creating Earth humans.

"And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them."

There was serious discussion in wiping us out. In the following verses, God saw some hope in Noah and spared us. Was Noah some sort of conference or agreement where the women argued against our deaths? Or does Noah represent the humans the Annunaki smuggled during the underwater nuclear explosions and the havoc on the shoreline?

The Popol Vuh of the Quiché Maya had the following lines.

The Creator of the Universe said Man : " know all...what shall we do with them now? Let their sight reach only to that which is near; let them see only a little of the face of the earth! . . . Are they not by nature simple creatures of our making? Must they also be gods?"

I take this to mean that the renegade Elohim thought their creation, us Earth-slaves should never know of their Annunaki heritage. Earth humans should never be their equals, but their lackeys. These guys weren't very nice, were they Mr. X? <smile>

Today is Thanksgiving in Canada. Let me end this letter by thanking you for opening my eyes a little. Thanks.

Q.1) Gov't. The government does not know what will happen. Life will change and yet remain the same. Lets just say a lot of people will have their eyes opened a little. Shattering Earth society is not in the game plan Tony.

Q.2) Legions. Tony the collective is a very military like structure. And yes e-hums do make good soldiers. ([FRIEND of Mr. X]) E-hum females even better! As for the Mars probe you must blame your own people for that. The probe would have been permitted to arrive, in fact it would have been beneficial. The Russian probe was destroyed by the Annunaki.

Q.3) Africans. Words will not save them,

Tony.

Q.4) Children. ([FRIEND of Mr. X]) When you stop slaughtering 50,000,000 children a year in your abortion clinics and feed the 250,000,000 that will starve to death each cycle, then you may preach morality to the Elohim.

The beings you speak of are members of the collective and have opportunities and advantages not even dreamed of in your society.(MR. X) She has a point Tony. Your concern is understood. You would have to be there to understand this one Tony. Its one of the hot topics making the job more difficult. As for hormones the choice will be up to you.

Q.5) The question of punishment is difficult to understand. Crime is a form of mental retardation. If someone should develop problems those problems are fixed. Why do they work? For the benefit of the collective and to improve themselves. You work or you learn, there is no in-between. As I said earlier you are unlimited in what you can achieve.

Q.6) Revolt. No someone has to do it. Yes you can mate for power the closer in the bloodline is, the greater the status.

Q.7) Boredom. No Tony they don't get bored. The best way I can explain is this. Go out and look up at the heavens on a star filled night. Does it look boring? As for emotions yes people are people no matter where they come from.

Q.8) Nut. I told you whatever makes you comfortable to believe. When I die here, I will go home, just like the song said Tony. I told you that I am human. I could not be here if I were not. Yes I have another body waiting for me. It is standing in a clear tube on the left side of a room. The room is 25x45 feet. The tube is filled with the most beautiful blue/white light you can imagine. There are 11 other tubes near mine. In them are 2 females, the rest unoccupied. [My Friend] takes very good care of it for me. Once in a great while I get to reintergrate. I do not expect to be here past 50 years of age. There is too much to do. The next time I return to the Earth I will be as I truly am. Perhaps you will see this. I hope so.

Q.9 Reincarnate. As I told you before, It does not break the law, it frees you from it. That which a person is does not change. Only the body changes. The advantages of knowing what the mistakes were allows for greater improvement.

Q.10) Names. Kahn Chi is a title of respect. It means Lord of Power. He is a great man. He is ancient in days. He is on the counsel of seven and is very influential. Yes, you would like him very much. Q.11) History. Your history is the collective, you just haven't realized it yet. You now have an advantage knowing how to interpret events in a new light.

Q.12) Venus. This is a huge question. Venus is the evening star, (star bright, star light, first star I see tonight) . When primitive man saw a ship glowing in the distance they assumed it was a star. It was also none as the star of the sea. This is the same title as "Stella Maris" or Mary as the Christians called her. Venus, Aphrodite, Isi, Ishtar (ASHTAR) and a host of other names all name the same goddess. When Qz. left he returned to his mother Venus, or Mary take your pick. There are mining operations on Venus and it was the place were the rebels fled to during the war. As punishment those who were left were confined to the mining pits on Venus. The name of the woman who was in charge of this operation was Hel. She was the Norse Goddess of war. Her soldiers were all females known as the Valkries. She is a very beautiful woman, but then, all Pleidian women are. Her full name is Ha EL Ma. She doesn't like the E-hums down here.

Q.13) Mayans. The whole thing is related to surgery as remembered By men brought onboard.

Q.14) Symbol. Your gonna love this one Tony. This will take a bit so listen carefully! Snakes are found all over the world as a symbol of the goddess. In Gen-ISIS it says that the snake gave Eve the apple of knowledge. Here is what this means. Before I start abductees report seeing an emblem on these beings. It is two intertwined snakes inside an upside down triangle. Remember this Tony, everything is just about to go, "click". The geneticist who modified man was a Elohim female. She was the head of the genetic research units. The symbol of this unit is the double HEL-ix or DNA. To the primitives seeing it simply looked like two intertwined snakes, the same intertwined snakes as the abductees see today. They are the same units working both projects. Our present day medical symbol which was handed down from ancient times is the caduceus. It shows two intertwined snakes under a winged disk. The snakes are DNA and the winged disk is what today you call a flying disk or saucer.

Getting back to Genesis to have knowledge of someone in the biblical sense means reproduction. Eve or more appropriately the Eves were given the power to reproduce on there own. The apple is the symbol for the goddess in many lands. I hope you fully grasp the ramifications of what I am saying. The first or original sin was by a woman. She just wasn't an Earth woman. The women who created the test tube baby known as Jesus wore the same symbol. He considered them very wise. The symbol of the dove I have already explained to you. Have we clicked yet Tony?

You know more than all the theologians and historians on this planet put together. You know the truth. Is it easier to see now why the Elohim have waited to reveal themselves? The shock of this knowledge could be devastating to your people. They do not want to hurt man anymore. My uniform has the same symbol Tony. I worked on the hybrid project for over 200 years.

One of the biggest problems we faced was the creations of retro-viruses and auto-immune responses in the blood. These problems were solved and the hybrid population is growing steadily. They are truly magnificent beings as your world will soon discover. Well I think I've answered enough for now, I'm getting tired. The rest of your bible q's are basically correct, good job. There is so much to tell but not in one night. You must tell others Tony. Take what I have written and put it in a form suitable for distribution.

Make people aware Tony, open their eyes.
"Mr. X."

Council of Seven

Mr. X,

Of course! Snakes meant DNA! How could I have been so blind! <smile>

Ah Mr. X.....what are you doing to me? <frown> I was in cultural shock and depressed for hours afterward. I'm probably one of the few people in history to be convinced of UFOs through semantics. God help me, but I believe everything you've told me is true. You're right, knowledge is a gift that can never be returned. I would've slept better if I didn't know all this. Then again, one cannot face the future by hiding his head in the sand like a coward. One day Mr. X, I would like to shake your (and all your associates') hand. You don't want to be our Gods, but our friends. I now begin to appreciate why the Collective is taking its time and preparing us. A lot of people, particularly those guys in the Bible Belt, are not going to like the fact that they worshiped a man (an immortal man, but a man nevertheless) and not God. The canvas of human history may be part of the history of the Collective, but it's still a little disheartening to find out that a lot of Earth history was based on primitive man's misinterpretations. Oh well, we will get disillusioned with Earth history, but will inherit the history of the Collective.

Am I really the only (mortal) Terran who knows the significance of snakes and DNA? I will anonymously send copies of all of our e-mail (minus our last names and numbers) to various UFO organizations. Hopefully, they will grasp the significance of what you're telling us and publish the letters to their members and readers. If there is anything you want me to censor (such as the name Sothis, or change you and [your Friend]'s names), please tell me.

The reason why I kept asking you if people got bored in the Collective is because I'm more apprehensive of eternal life than I am of dying. What's it like to change bodies? Is it a metaphysical experience? I imagine a race of Immortals must be very careful with respect to birth control. How regulated is it?

What is the Council of Seven? Is it the ruling body of the Elohim? Is it a council of seven people or of seven powerful families?

You also mentioned that if you weren't human, you wouldn't be here on Earth. Does that mean that some Collectivians might have difficulty living on the Earth unprotected? If I stand on Sothis or the Pleidian home world, will I be able to live and breath without protection?

I'm curious about the Collective. How old is it? Which humans met who first? I assume it was after one society developed the "pissed-off" faster-than-light drive. (By the way, does the pissed-off drive still hold Einstein's theory of relativity valid?) Was there any conflict in the beginning between the different human societies, or did everybody get along from the beginning? What was it like when humans met the Greys? That must have been a turning point in your (uh...our) history. <smile>

You've also mentioned that there is no in-between in the military structured Collective. One either works or learns and that criminal behavior is "fixed." Does that mean that dissidents and individualists (or anybody who wants to make a run for unknown space) has his or her personality modified?

Letter after letter, Mr. X, your theme has been genetics and humanity. I always thought a person's personality, whether good or evil, was a reflection of his or her's soul or spirit. You seem to imply that genetics are the determining factor. How exactly do genes differentiate between a human and an "animal who walks and talks"?

How exactly will our genetic pool improve in the post-2011 era?

Also, how exactly did plagues improve mankind's genetic pool over the centuries? Let's take the history of the Bubonic plague, for example. It killed Athenians in 430 BC, Romans in 262 a.d., and 1/4th of Europe's population between 1331 and 1351. I assume the disease was specifically targeted towards "animals." By killing them off, was it hoped that the surviving potential-humans would multiply and vastly increase the number of "correct" genes? Was it a coincidence that a century or so after the black death, the printing press and later the Renaissance started to flourish? Since the Black death (a mere 600 years ago) we've had the Renaissance, the Enlightenment era, the Industrial Age and now, the Atomic Age. Is there a relationship between the bubonic plague of the 1300s and our vast improvement in the last 600 years?

Or was there another way of improving the genetic pool? Like, were Annunaki genes introduced directly into the human populace at a regular intervals over the centuries?

I don't wish to get so morbid Mr. X, but I want to understand what happened to us. "Not to know the events which happened before one was born, that is to remain a boy."-Marcus Cicero (106-43 B.C.)

Thanks!

"Tony"

The Truth Must Become Your Truth!

Tony, I find myself experiencing two emotions, on the one hand I am glad that you have begun to understand how intimately we are all connected. On the other hand it saddens me that there will be so much confusion and doubt that this knowledge will bring to the masses.

I have agonized over the question of how to reveal this knowledge without ripping apart the very fabric of many peoples lives. The answer of course is that there is but one way, the way of truth. Do you know what truth is Tony? Truth is knowledge in its purest form. Truth is the simplest form something can have. Truth is neither kind or cruel. But it is the one thing in all this universe that will set your mind free. Do you know what love is Tony? Love is the most powerful force in the universe. Love does not ask, it gives without cost. If you had a son and he committed a terrible crime, what would you feel.

You would feel anguish over his actions but you would still love him, protect him, give your very life for him. This is the truth of love, in its purest form. A persons capacity for love is a direct gauge of that person evolution. When you can extend this love to all your fellow man, than will you be human. Actions are the core of all things Tony. You have heard that you will not be judged by your deeds but on your beliefs. That your good deeds are but filthy rags before god. I tell you that this is false. You are that which you do.

A single good deed is worth more than all the professed faith in the world. When the One see a man bent at the knee, his mouth spewing forth praise and self degradation, the One hears but does not listen. When the

One observe an act of kindness or compassion, the One smiles. Every person on this planet should do one good deed everyday. It can be a simple thing or as large as any act has every been. Do this and nothing will be withheld from man, nothing. It has been said that women are the root of all evil. That had it not been for them, man would still have paradise. They are the bearers of original sin and a heavy burden it has been. I tell you now that there was no fault in the daughters of man, not then or now. From this day forward to believe in such is to believe a lie. To degrade your fellow woman is to show your own unforgiving and therefore negative self. It is said that heaven awaits those who believe. That your faith in knowing the one and only truth ensures your place. There is one truth, and that truth is this.

Heaven and all that it contains is here, now. The Earth has all there is to offer, that is of any value. It has life and were there is life there is creation and this above all things is God.

The Earth can be the paradise that man has so long sought after or it can be your own private little Hell. The punishment you inflict on yourselves is far greater than any deity could inflict. This is your home. It is were you can experience all the pleasures that physical life has to offer. It is the school that teaches you, so that your soul may increase.

You must see the world as it is. You must decide on which path you will go down. All of the religions that have for so long kept you apart must become what they were intended to be, One. In every religion there is a core and in that core the truth resides.

This truth must become your truth. It starts with one simple good deed a day. If you want to regain paradise, you must work for it. All the things that were promised to you are still there waiting for you.

The day has come for you to look at yourselves through the eyes of truth. You must act as one for the good of all. United there is nothing on this planet that can oppose you. I have said this all before, I hope the time has come when you will not only hear but listen. One world, One People, that is the plan. Tony I will answer your question next time. I am very tired now. So much to be done and so little time.

P.S. do not use our names in any letters you send. Funny how history repeats itself, Tony.

"Mr. X"

History Repeats Itself

I always said you sound tired. Whenever you feel like answering the questions, whether it's next month or next year, is fine with me.

One final question, what do you mean that history repeats itself?

Thanks.

Tony, Q.1) Only one who knows. You have a clearer understanding now.

Q.2) Bodies. You stand in a chamber. The most beautiful blue white light you have ever seen seems to fill every cell in your body. For a brief moment you can see 360 deg. in all directions and you sense an underlying power that fills everything. Then you open your eyes and its over. For the first couple of days you have a little trouble with memory but it passes.

Q.3) Births. You can do it but most don't.

Q.4) Seven. The are seven chosen individuals of the Elohim. They lead the Annunaki.

Q.5) unprotected. Either species could live anywhere with the proper inoculations.

Q.6) First. Recorded history begins over 150k ago. The first race was from Sothis. Then Pleiades, then Orion. There has been conflict as I've already told you.

Q.7) Greys. I am not permitted to discuss this one. Lets just say we met, got along, they got in to trouble and we helped.

Q.8) Modified. No Tony, its not like some science fiction movie. You are allowed to disagree. You are not allowed to consume assets and not contribute to the whole.

Q.9) Genetics. Tony the soul and physical body are linked. You cannot have one more advanced than the other and still remain balanced. this will tie in with your last Q so I'll answer them both now. When a sentient species begins to evolve their enhanced reasoning abilities allows them to make a much larger choice in actions and behavior. This allows more safety as well as greater risk.

If a person does something that is wrong, chances are there will be repercussions. If these actions are severe enough death may occur removing that persons genetic material from the pool. This is a much more complex process than with mere animals because the added brain power allows improved survival methods. As a person and society grow and learn their actions will directly influence the rate of survival.

The more advanced the greater spiritually and physically they must be. If you notice, most of the major plagues have been behaviorally related. Whether substandard hygiene or irresponsible sexual practices were the actions, the results are the same.

Q.10) Genes. No there has been no influx of genes since the departure.

Earth History Is But A Joke!

I won't ask you anything tonight.

In the very first letter, Mr. X, you said that our running dialog could be "a test to see how people can handle all this stuff." Well, Mr. X, I'm going to fill in your "questionnaire."

I feel a little numb inside. The numbness has been growing, but it really hit me the other day when you told me about the significance of the snakes. (I don't know why, but it did) . I don't know how many people you've sprung this on, but I'm willing to bet they all felt the same way. I've had a difficult time concentrating on my school work, family, etc. Even my friend, the hardened skeptic, felt the same way. I saw the hurt in his eyes when he read the last couple of letters, and he doesn't really believe in you. (Though, I think he's starting to) . I think he exclaimed: "Earth history is a fing joke!" Oh, I don't envy you Mr. X, for the task you have. Integration in this militaristic Collective is going to be hell the first couple of years.

The Truth is going to hurt, Mr. X. I'm an open minded person and I feel numb. In a day or two, I will get over this, but how will all those superstitious people out there going to take this. People all over the world are going to have the rug pulled out from underneath their feet. And this will be on top of the 1.5 billion deaths and God knows what else.

Yes, I know they will get the Mr. X history of the Collective, but it won't be the same thing. I'm sure Pleidians, Orions and everyone else are proud of their history. We won't be. In some respects, my friend is right. Earth history and culture is a joke. I hope your sociologists (or whoever else is in charge of integration) are going to really, really emphasize mankind's relationship to the Collective. It might take away some of the sting in the first few years after 2011. I don't know how my mother or grandparents are going to understand all this. God, why the hell did it have to be Earth the renegade Elohim's decide to do their dirty work. Isn't it ironic, that a handful of misguided people have caused so much suffering these last 10,000 years. We're suffering for their sins. It might have been easier if you guys seized the planet thousands of years, when there were less people. If you spoon-fed primitive man with the art of civilization instead of sending the occasional tutor (like Jesus) , maybe things would have been better. Maybe by going soft on us for 5,000 years, you've actually increased the pain factor. Now with 5 billion of us, you're going to have your hands full.

"You must act as one for the good of all. United there is nothing on this planet that can oppose you," you wrote. How very true, Mr. X. Only United will we be able to handle some of the pain and humiliation. Only United will we be able to handle the coming storms. I know many people out there think of me and everybody else here as an animal. I hope to prove them wrong. I'm proud to be an Earth man, Mr. X. I've always loved humanity. We're a dynamic people, Mr. X. Reckless, insane by your standards, but dynamic nonetheless.

One day we will get down from the cross the renegade Elohim's crucified us upon. One day we will be a great people, Mr. X. A people who will contribute to the Collective. A people who won't be a burden to it and the rest of humanity. A people who won't be laughed or scorned at. We'll take the pain we're about to receive and bounce back from it, Mr. X, mark my words.

That's all I wanted to say. I'll ask you questions again on Monday. That way you and I can take a break. I'm hurting Mr. X, but I'll bounce back, like everyone else will do so one day.

Thank you.

"Tony"

Glimpsing A New Reality

Tony, Your reactions and those of your friend are understandable. I told you the truth, now you must deal with it in a manner befitting the human that you are. Our race the human race has already achieved great things in the galaxy. Earth will someday fully realize its birth right and all that it offers. I know that right now this is taking up a large part of your thoughts. You must minimize it as much as possible. You have glimpsed a new reality that most men do not even know exist. That mankind is living a dream of blissful ignorance. You now know what it is to be awakened. Your reaction to this is very important Tony. But this my friend is only the beginning. Do you like to fish Tony? Well I know were the best fish are and they really put up a fight. Especially when you take them out of the nice dark water which hides them and into the light. They're a fish called mankind and the ocean in which they swim is darkness. Its time to shed a little light in this world. I have been talking with a few other people. It will be very limited for now. I want you to talk to one.

She is just starting this. I want you to send her some of our messages. She does not know all that you know. I want to see how well you can teach her what I have taught you. Also it will give you a chance to relate with some one on the same wavelength. Her name is Barbara. You do not have to do this if you don't want to. If you do then you two will be the first of 12 people I will share this with. In turn you and the others will teach others.

This Information is only the beginning Tony. We do not intend to destroy mankind's belief system without having something better to take its place. If at all possible there will be a new way and a new hope. This is a trial run to see if it can work. Are you up for it Tony? You must not let this interfere with your family. They are the single most important thing you have. In the beginning most of what we do can be done on the computer, via mail which is free up to a certain limit. You begin to see the possibilities? Man has been asleep for to long, it is time for the sleepers to awaken. Sound familiar? Remember Tony you now have friends in some pretty high places. Do well and they will remember you.

I'll talk to Barbara. It'll be therapeutic for the both of us.

Funny how you mentioned you plan to have 12 people. Like Jesus? <smile>

Mr. X, I don't know what you have in store for me. I feel I should warn you that I'm reluctant to do all this. I'm not some eager beaver. I don't want to be rewarded. Half of me wants you to be a quack, and the other half wants you to be who you say you are. As you know, I'm a little hurt. I'll help you out anyway. But I just don't want to be rushed into all this. You're right. My family is the most important thing in the world to me. But the human race is also important.

Why not recruit people in high government office? Or people with ultra-high IQs? I'm an [censored]. I was quite comfortable before all of this, Mr. X. Why did you send me that first letter?

The knowledge you told me has brought responsibilities now. Responsibilities I can't ignore. I'll be a good soldier and face the future, good or bad, Mr. X. Like usual, you're right. The stakes ARE too high.

I'll talk to you on Mondays.

Thanks.

"Tony"

Beginning Of A New Approach

Tony, relax a little As for the comparison to Joshua Ha Ma Shia (Jesus) I'm flattered, lets hope I live up to your expectations. Take your time, nothing has to be done overnight. We will limit our talks to Mondays so you and I can both get some work done. As for why I sent you the first letter your a history buff, who better to send it to? Lets take things nice and slow here. Relax for a while, I suggest you read the bible, It has a lot of this in there. You now have a new way to understand it so enjoy. Remember though, the values and lessons taught are valid even if those who are its authors has been misinterpreted.

Two other books you should read are Treasures of the Darkness, Harvard Press or is it Yale, another is by Sitchin called the Earth Chronicles. Ignore most of his planetary theories and concentrate on the broader scope. All this can be a lot of fun Tony and rewarding spiritually as well. You have only realized that there is new information in old sources wait until you begin to study them. There is plenty of time for all this, remember you set the pace with your questions. I usually restrict them to only 3 questions but you were a special case. Let me know what Barb says. It is important to see how well you two can get along and how well you communicate. There is a higher purpose to all this Tony. Whether it succeeds is totally up to us.

Stop worrying about 2011 it simply marks the beginning of new approaches. What's needed now is simply education. Even if the masses don't believe all this it will be there in the back of their minds and provide a cushion, if you will, for them. The new way is not intended to convert, those people who already know all the answers and are incapable of learning anything. Their are none so blind Tony as those who will not see. The new way is for those who have nothing but yearn for something. It is for the children who have the capacity to learn. Unless those who hear can become children again they simply will not see or understand the new heavens and the new Earth.

Remind me to tell you the story about Mary Magdeline some time, you would love it, I think. Tony don't get bent out of shape on this, it would be very difficult to find another open minded historian named Tony. Sit back, think about all this, talk to Barb and let the future come at its own pace. We're not on some kind of locked in time table. As for why not pick politicians, do you know the definition of a honest politician? An honest politician is one that stays bought. As for ultra high IQ's, truth can be perceived by a genius or an idiot with the same amount of thought applied, if not then it wasn't truth to begin with. I have faith in you Tony, don't make me change your name to Thomas. Of yes speaking of names you may add this one to yours if you like. The name is Ben Regaz its a title that is for the males of are group the females are Beth Regaz. What does it mean? Ask an old Jewish rabbi, just don't tell him where you heard it or anything else. You could also find it in a good concordance I guess. Well Tony this is as real as life gets. You have the opportunity of living at a very unique time in human history. How you use that time is up to you my friend. Peace be with you Tony.

"Mr. X"

God, Or The One

I'm glad you brought up the subject of God, or the ONE.

What is the ONE's origins?

Why did the ONE create us?

And how do you know what God feels or thinks? Are Collectivians in tune with God or with your "higher selves" (as Shirley Maclaine put it)?

How do spiritual entities like Seth, Ramtha, Lazarus and such fit into the pattern of creation? Many of these channeled beings claim that they have never been in the physical form. They all keep saying that the new age is coming soon, so I assume their talking about the integration into the Collective. I've also never read them mention anything about the Elohim or our enslavement. Indeed, they keep bringing up Atlantis and such. Are they talking about another Earth, or time-stream?

Thanks.

"Tony"

Reincarnation And Channeling

Tony I was wondering when you were going to get around to this one.

Q.1) One. The collective has many philosophies about the origin of the One. The best I can do now is summarize my own thoughts. I will be doing a lot more on this subject later. All things in this Universe are made of energy. This exists in four basic forms. 1) Source, the simplest form of energy. 2) matter. Energy in it's most dense state. 3) Radiation, which is the byproduct of source conversion. 4) life-force. This is a very special form that source can take. It is a matter of organization. It is thought that in the beginning there was only source. Something happened which made source start to form a pattern. This pattern had only one purpose—to grow.

Eventually the pattern became so large and so complex that it was able to realize action. So out it spread in the universe and endless supply of energy before it. It like all things had one small problem, it could not maintain a straight line. In time it literally curved back on itself. Then one end of the it met another end and the first thought besides hunger was felt. That thought was other.

You see the distance it had covered was so vast that at first it did not realize it was only touching itself. The next thought was if that was something else than I must be something too. Tony I have over simplified this for time reasons. And wa-la the one was born.

Q.2) Us, why we are here is tied in with the creation of the one. One is simply life-force Tony. It soon took parts of itself and created other parts of itself that were independent. It was discovered that under certain conditions life-force could cling to an intermix with matter. While in this state a variety of feelings and emotions could be experienced. Now here is the big picture. The one now creates both life-force and matter for the life to exist with. We call these planets and bodies.

When a planet first develops a large mass of life source will engulf it. As the matter forms suitable patterns the life force begins to merge with the patterns. It starts with a single cell and evolution begins to create larger containers. The larger the container the larger the life-force it can hold. This process takes place over billions of years. Eventually a pattern will gain just the right complexity for sentience to be achieved. Once this happens the rate of evolution both spiritual and physical is greatly accelerated. In time the being will reach a state of such spiritual development that matter can no longer contain it. This life-force then leaves the physical realm and merges with the one. The One shares the total existence of these beings from single cell up to there return to the source. They are then as One.

Q.3) Tune. Yes as I said natural reincarnation is a slow process. Also there is another area that I have not mentioned. Psychic abilities are enhanced up there. It is done by technology and training. Once you begin to use it, it develops quite rapidly.

Q.4) Channeled. Tony, here is a chance for you to know if I'm for real or not. I've told you that I don't channel. I have no need for someone else to give me the info. These channelers tell you all these things about Atlantis and such. Are you able to go into your own history records and verify it like you can mine? All the things I have told you can be found and understood. The reason they have not told you about the Elohim is because they don't know, its as simple as that. Remember what you were told, They will say here he is and there he is but when it truly is you will know. He will make all things to be remembered again. Read Matthew Ch. 24. Vr. 22-28. St Tony Ch14,15,16. Read these Tony and understand. One thing whenever they say the father exchange it for mother, this was a real crime that they did. When the time comes it will be remembered.

Barb is fine. We got along well. We voiced both our doubts and our belief in you. <grin> She herself told me she got a little depressed over what you were telling her. I don't blame her. It is a little overwhelming.

You like the handle Mahdi? Sounds appropriate. "He who would lead us to paradise," in Frank Herbert's Dune.

Mr. X, I can't wait until Monday<grin>, so I'll ask you tonight about The One. I wanted to ask about God from the beginning, but you said it was a complex subject.

Let me tell you about my religious beliefs. You seem to be confirming it. I believe that God created the physical universe in the beginning. He/She/All made planets stars and life. God wanted to share his creation however, so he made us souls. We have free will but we are still part of God. We are God's thoughts. We helped create life in the universe with God. However, we got caught up in the physical life and our creations and got stuck here. We fell from our true spiritual awareness and started the karmic cycle. The meaning of life is to find our true selves which is spiritual. We are part of God, and God is love.

Has anyone in the Collective made it? Did they become perfect beings, merged with the One?

Channeled entities interest me because of their objectivity. I was surprised when you said they didn't know about the Elohim. Don't they have the Akashik records to consult? I was just reading one entity who is extraterrestrial. He called himself Ercon, of the ship Arcumi. He bid greetings from "those planes of existence of Sirius, Orion, Pleiades." He also mentioned Atlantis, "when we had great cultural exchanges with your planet [Earth]." What was Atlantis anyway? He finished his talk with the word Adonoi. Is this guy for real?

[I read Ercon in Kevin Ryerson's book]

And speaking of Pleiades, I was rereading Out on a Limb by Shirley Maclaine the other day. She encountered a man named David who claimed he met a Pleiadian geologist named Mayan in South America. Mayan told him that there is a divine force that is binding every single atom in the universe. This force is the thinking element of nature that fills the interatomic space of the universe. This energy or force is us. It is what makes up our souls. Is this right? I feels right, but since we're on the subject of God, I wanted to ask you about it. (and what kind of mining are you guys doing in South America anyway?)

I was wondering. The 1/3rd of the race that will die, did you guys consult with their souls first? In other words, are they bowing out for now, only to return later when they've spiritually grown? I can't see you guys do this without consulting them. For if not, imagine the karmic debt the Collective would have to assume.

Well, that's all I wanted to ask. I'm trying to keep within your 3 questions, but it's difficult. <grin>Learning at a snail's pace is tough.

Well, thanks and I'll see you on Monday.

Tony, Good to hear from you again. Dune is very interesting as it is really a predictive work. The term Mahdi was used long ago, its actual meaning is, "Sent by the Moon" the context in which it was used is nearly identical to dune so its fine. If that is what they want to call me I have no objections. You can't wait huh? Okay lets get cracking.

Q.1) Merge. All life must go up the biological and spiritual ladder of evolution. This process takes a long, long time. No one in the collective has reached that point yet.

Q.2) Channeled. I will tell you things and if you want to believe it is up to you. If I say something you can usually verify it one way or another. There has been no great teachers here for almost 1500 yrs. The only real interaction has been through authors and song writers, etc. There have been no channelings. Some of what you hear is people who are abductees and are remembering subconsciously. Others are simply con men. There was no great cultural exchange at the time he is saying. Man was a slave remember? As for Atlantis or Atzlan as you should call it, it means White Place. The place of the White Mountain. It was an Annunaki base. Remember the Flood?

Q.3) Adonoi. Well the correct spelling is Adonai or Ado-ni. If he's going to use the family name at least spell it right. It is an old term for lord or high priest.. Tony with all these channelers and such, the only advise I can give is this. Trust your inner self to no what's true and what's not. If they say something of value, use it. if it sounds like Great Buckets Of Cosmic Flowers And Light than its probably B.S. Use your judgment, remember what I told you about truth. As far as I know, I'm the only real UFO nut down here.

Q.4) Shirley. Guess where she was before? I know what the name Maya means. It means Magic and is the title of a very powerful virgin(as in no children) goddess. Perhaps you've heard it somewhere too, but not in it's full use. I don't recall her being a geologist. As for what he said about the binding force he is essentially right.

Q.5 Mine. None at all really. Most has already been done. Large base still in Peru.

Q.6) 1/3 Die. You really are hung up on this. I may have made a mistake in using this. The collective is not going to kill off anyone Tony. I was trying to generate a response such as anger or motivate you to try and understand the problem E-hum's face. I seem to have miscommunicated this.

Lets settle this once and for all. We did not create aids, there are no viruses planned for release. I told you where the Aids contaminated vaccines were given and by whom. Please do not bring this subject up again, there is to much more important things to cover. Well that covers all of your questions. All those who create are part of the ONE, and those who are ONE, are the Way. Peace be with you Tony. Mr.X & Friend,

Where was Shirley Maclaine before? Before what?

From what I understand in Out On A Limb, [she] planned Ms. Maclaine to write her spiritual books from the beginning. Even when I read Out On A Limb, I wondered why Ms.Maclaine, especially since Maclaine had no idea what was in store for her. Why not tell Ms.Maclaine all your telling us? She is a good, sincere writer who puts things in plain English. She asks the same questions I do. I can just picture the book she can write on your discussions. Something like Out Of The Darkness, or Going Home. And this guy David, he seems to know his stuff. How is he helping out?

All of us, Barbara, David, Ms. Maclaine, and myself, at one point or another have felt overloaded. Ms. Maclaine wrote "I didn't know what to think. I began to feel physically uncomfortable. My skin itched. The sun was suffocating. I did not want to be there." That's EXACTLY how I feel sometimes when I read your letters. I'm struggling with all this. This reminds me of physical training I did in the army. Your accelerating the pace, Mr. X. I just hope I can keep up.

As for channeled entities, I never assumed they were all light and flowers. Like yourself, they answer some of my questions .I do think they are mostly a positive thing. Look at Ercon. He is the real thing, for how else did he know the word Ado-ni. He called the Collective the Federation, though.

Well, Mr. X, you never cease to surprise me.

Thanks.

Karma And A Sense of Purpose

Tony, [censored] As for hair color, Red=Orion, Black=Sirius, Blonde=Pleiades.

Q.1) Before. Ms. Maclaine chose to be here. She just doesn't remember it all. A very remarkable woman, in both realms.

Q.2) Why not. I believe in you and Barb. you must believe in yourselves. There is nothing she could write or express that you two can not do just as well. Besides it didn't work that well, did it? As for channeled beings like Ercon, if he says something of truth you will know it. As for the word Adoni, its been around for a long time my friend. Use your judgment and trust yourself to make the right choices. If you believe in him or David it is up to you.

As for the term Federation it is not as descriptive of a name as the Collective.

There is no central political party involved. I know this is a lot to grasp and it may seem ruff at the beginning but stop and realize what it is you are accomplishing Tony. You are bringing a new knowledge to people. You can help to change your world for the better.

Soon you will not be alone in this task. Others will help you and you them. You can draw strength and confidence from them. There is no greater act than to help your fellow man Tony. The Karma this creates will fill you with a sense of purpose, accomplishment, and hope. I wish I could find a 100 more like you and Barb, the job would be a lot easier.

"Mr. X"

Bermuda Triangle, Crop Circles, Easter Island

I'm curious about the different types of human societies. I would appreciate it if you were a little more specific than usual. You mentioned only 3 stars (Orion, Pleiades, & Sirius), but what about the other stars? Who lives there? Any Andromedans, Zeti-Reticulans and such? Which is the latest inhabited planet to be discovered by the Collective? Was their tech level higher than Earth's? Is Earth in a colony or frontier sector?

What do planets around Orion, Pleiades & Sirius look like? Like, does the Pleiadian homeworld (which is called?) look like arid Arizona, tropical Brazil or as snowy Canada? What's the gravity, atmosphere like in each of these worlds? Any tourist traps I should avoid? <grin>I assume the Grey's homeworld is very aquatic.

More importantly, what are the distinctive societal characteristics of each of the 3 homeworlds? Which society values virtue, science, art, religion etc more than the others? (I hope you know where I'm getting at. Japan and the US are two very different cultures, but they get along most of the time). Which human society is the most laissez-faire? The most stoic? Perhaps one day you can give me a list of most of the different human societies and a brief description of each.

Do Collectivians talk to each other or are you only telepaths? I can understand if a Pleiadian spoke to an Orion, he would use telepathy, but what about 2 Pleiadians having a conversation? (Sorry for using Pleiades as an example a lot, but I like the sound of it-Pleiades-it rolls off one's tongue) Indeed, what is the main language of the Collective?

You seem to be implying that you know where Maclaine was before she incarnated on Earth (Virginia, I believe). By realm, that could either mean the Collective or the Astral or Causal plane. Can you in your present form remember what you're doing while you sleep? In other words, do you know what happens when you're on the astral plane?

Apart from switching bodies every couple of centuries, how else can you manipulate the divine interatomic energy? Is it that energy you piss off to go faster than light? If you can manipulate that energy (which we're made of), can you rip apart souls (or is that hopefully impossible)?

How do you know the Seeders were time-travelers? What clues did they leave behind that would indicate that? If they can travel between different time-streams, that means that there are alternate-Earths and alternate-Collectives and such.

The situation with the abductees is a little confusing. I agree, most of them are nuts, but what about those I don't think are nuts. People like Travis Walton, Betty & Barney Hill and Whitley Strieber. Walton, a down-to-Earth (sorry for the pun) lumberjack, claims he met the Greys and human looking ETs (Pleiadians, I suspect) in the mid-70s. Was he accidentally picked up? They aren't volunteers, because they had to go through hypnosis to accept what happened to them.

Why were volunteers placed on Earth before donating their genes? Wouldn't it have been easier if they did all that before living down here? Indeed, why not just take genes from Earthmen in [Friend of Mr. X]'s legions?

On to more bizarre questions. I'll get them out of the way now. They've been in my head for years.

Does the Collective have anything to do with ships and planes disappearing in the Bermuda Triangle? If so, why and what happened to those navy fighter pilots in 1945?

Would you happen to know what happened at the Tunguska explosion? The best theory we have was that it was a stone meteorite.

Did the Collective draw those crop circles a couple of years ago? If so, what do those symbols mean?

Who do the Easter Island statues represent? Which "Gods" are these? And why were they built in the middle of nowhere?

Were the Egyptians helped in building their pyramids? Does the Sphinx represent anything real?

Who built Stonehenge and why?

I've read stories that certain Air Force pilots have died while investigating UFOs. Is that true? And if so, why were these men killed? They were no threat, and they were just doing their duty. Were their deaths an accident? Or did the Collective send a "fk off" warning to the military?

Well, Mr. X. Sorry for asking a helluva lot of questions today. I'm trying to get as much info as possible since we only get in touch weekly. Just your bad luck to pick someone who's incredibly and annoyingly curious at all this. <smile>

Telepathy And The Grays

Tony, You sure asked a lot of Q's. But that's the point of it all isn't it?

Q.1) Other stars. I've already told you about the other colonies and the frontiers. I wish I could remember more, unfortunately knowing the best bar on Mazeroth is not exactly vital is it. So far only four human races and two cetacean have been discovered. There is one other but I'm not permitted to talk of them. They are human also, sort of. They are not friendly. Earth was the last inhabited planet discovered. Earth is in a colony sector, because it's a colony.

Q.2) What do the other planets look like. They look just like Earth with one notable exception, the moon. On Mazeroth (Sirius) the G. is a little less. The people are taller than here on Earth. I wish I could remember more Tony, but its a miracle I remember this much.

Q.3) Societal values of each. This I can tell you about. Lets start with Sirius. They are like the Athenians of ancient Greece They are more philosophical and mild tempered. They are in to pure research and exploring. They are the oldest of the humans.

The Pleiadjans are very much like Sparta. This similarity of the two is not coincidental. Both the Ath. and Spar. were modeled after them. The Pld's are a warrior race and the heavy arm of the Coll. I can attest to the ferociousness of these people. [Friend of Mr. X] is as Pleiadian as you get. They are involved with research but it is of a military nature. There is one particular Pld I do not like. When I get back I intend to repay him for a certain debt. Orion is the most business and practical of the lot. They are the chief miners and engineers of the Coll. The Japanese would be the closest approximation.

Q.4) Telepathy. I like this one. Humans use both spoken and tel. forms, Greys use tel. to communicate with humans and each other. They also use sonic speech which is almost as good as tel. The reason tel. is used is that its a universal translator and it is impossible to lie with it. Because of these two factors it is the main language used.

Here's something interesting. When abductees are in the presence of Greys they say they will look directly at them and become quickly immobilized. This is a trick every dolphin knows how to do. The reason they must look directly at you is because they are emitting a very powerful ultrasonic burst from the front of the skulls. This renders anything helpless as many a barracuda or shark will attest.

Q.5) Ms. Maclaine. She was born in Va. We share the same home state then. She was Sirian Tony, it takes one to know one. By realm I mean the Coll.

Q.6) Astral plain. In the Coll. you can travel in the matrix while resting. The type of travel you are referring to is uncontrollable when it really happens. Most of what happens down here is not travel but projection. You are creating a link with another time or place. The U.S. military was very heavy into this kind of research. They called it Remote Viewing Recon. They have 25 people operating at this time, one of there attempted penetrations is the UFO phenomena. As for ripping apart souls that is not permitted by the matrix.

Q.7) Seeders. I know that there has been artifacts found on all planets that have life. I'm not talking about machines but rather signs of geological and biological influence. The Greys have detected certain anomalies and disturbances they believe are the result of massive energies traveling outside of normal time/space. I can not tell you more because the Greys are about the only ones who can understand it. Your own Earth and the extinction of the Dino's is one of the more blatant signs. There is only one reality Tony, you can change it but two things cannot exist together and survive.

Q.8) Abductees. There are no non-volunteers in the core group. Most core abductees don't need hypnosis to remember physical abductions. There are two types of Abductions physical and bio-energy extraction. If it is physical the persons brain is there and recording info. If it is a BFE than the persons brain is not there. This is the true missing time episodes. The memories are not blocked, they simply were not recorded. Its very unsettling I can assure you. It then takes hypnosis to access the shadow memory and recall the events. As for who you think is real and who's not, your not supposed to be able to tell. That's how they maintain safety of the core group.

Q.9) Genes. There are no Earthmen to take genes from in [Friend of Mr. X]'s legions. As for why the abductees are down here part of this I am unable to discuss. Almost all are E-hums who live up there. They will know exactly what conditions and perceptions are like when they return. This will be used when integration takes place.

Q.10) Bermuda triangle. Sampling was done there. Most were of people who would have died anyway. The Navy pilots happened to be out when a supply ship was coming in. There instruments were affected by this. They would have died had they not been taken. The tanker was taken too. It had a malfunction in its fuel lines. All crew members are safe but cannot be allowed to return with what they have seen.

Q.11) Tunguska .Yes there was a very big explosion. Just kidding Tony. The ship lost containment on the drive generator. It was ejected and exploded.

Q.12) Crop circles. One of the effects of the drive field is a swirl pattern created as it lands. Some of the crop circles are made by the Coll. as a form of communication Most are now made by humans and some are made by the Central Intelligence Agency, Directorate Of Science and Technology, as an attempt to communicate with the Coll. It is a joint project between U.S. & G.B.

Q.13) Easter Island. It was a place used by one of the great artist of the Annaki. It is a monument to fallen comrades.

Q.14) Sphynx. This is my favorite subject Tony, and all it involves. The Sphinx is a monument to [Friend of Mr. X] or Hathor as the Egyptians called her. I'm the only one who ever got between Isis and Hathor during an argument and lived to talk about it. Remind me to tell you the story sometimes. In fact the whole Sphinx story is to important. I will send you a Msg. devoted to this topic. For now some background info. The Great Sphinx is female as are all real sphinx in Egypt. The head was mutilated by man and a new male head carved over the existing. This is why the head is so out of scale with the body.

The Sphinx is way older than the pyramids. It is a monument and a warning to man about what happened long ago. They were to gaze upon it and remember the utter devastation that lay beyond and who caused it. Tony I watched spheres of fire drop from the skies. They were about a 100 meters across. When they hit the ground they expanded and spread out for a mile. They slowly collapsed back in and everything that they touched was gone. I watched [Friend of Mr. X] slaughter Annunaki and the E-hums that fought with them until I could watch no more. The Annunaki were obliterated and the E-hums fled to their cities. [Friend of Mr. X] brought down Hail 300 lbs each. They smashed everything in site.

The humans prayed in the temples for the ground to cover and hide them from the great lioness who stalked the land. The bloodshed was so horrible that even the Annunaki were terrified at what we had unleashed.

An-Komar ordered her to stop but she did not even listen. She said that she would kill until no rebel breathed the air of Earth. She swore the rebellion would never happen again. It was dangerous to even approach her ships, no one dared, but me.

We stood and looked out at the land. As far as you could see was smoldering ruin. We looked at the dead without number in what was left of the cities. I told her I was going down to the temple at what was left of a town. If she wanted to kill everyone there she could kill me too. She looked at what she had done and then at me. For a moment. I saw that blaze that only her eyes can have. I thought I had lost her. Then she started to cry. It had ended. The Sphinx was built to honor her accomplishment and to warn everyone never to do battle with the terrible one again. No one has. How someone of her love and compassion could become the greatest slayer the worlds have ever none, I am still trying to figure out. She is one hell of a lady, just don't piss her off. Peace be with you Tony.

Here Are "Timely Solutions" To Earth's Most Imposing Problems

It all started during the summer of 1993, after a particularly hot spell in his native Canada. In order to cool off one evening, Tony found himself sleeping out among the stars instead of in his rural home that has no air conditioning.

"It must have been around 2:00 or 3:00 AM when I first noticed this high-pitched hum in the air," Tony explains. "At first I thought maybe a high tension line near the house had snapped, but when I looked in the direction of a nearby utility pole, I saw something that made my hair stand on end."

"About 50 or 100 yards away was this remarkably bright light hovering in the sky. It was so intense that I could hardly look at it for more than a period of a second or two at a time."

Suddenly, according to Tony, the light dimmed and the object headed out over a nearby clearing directly behind his residence.

"As far as I could tell, the craft never actually landed, but it did seem to light up and then dim down several times over a period of the ten minutes or so that it remained in view."

Without any sound, the UFO took off straight up into the sky and Tony never saw—or heard—it again.

However, two days later his life was to change abruptly when he began to receive a series of mysterious messages in his mail box that were delivered without a return address.

"The first letter stated that the individual writing to me knew all about my low-level UFO sighting and indicated that he was actually onboard the craft at the time of the encounter.

"He said that by picking up on my vibrations, they were able to tell that I was no threat to their continuing operations in my area and that, basically, I was a kind person at heart—one that really cared about other people and wished to see those around me prosperous and live a life of harmony with what they called the 'laws of creation.'"

Over a period of time, Tony has received numerous letters, all of which seem to indicate an alien presence on Earth. "It's as if they are living amongst us—know our troubles and are able to offer advice on the subjects that matter to us the most."

And while the messages received by Tony received from "Mr. X" may be delivered by his friendly rural mail carrier in an ordinary manner, this is not the first time that such unusual—and apparently otherworldly—communications have come through the postal system. In the foreword to this small—but important—work, columnist Antonio Huneus describes the incredible circumstances surrounding the much-debated "UMMO Papers" that arrived in the hands of Spanish Ufologists. The circumstances surrounding these two cases—which take place half a world apart—is most uncanny.
